Hitler Fails In Move To Unite With Bruening Party

CATHOLICS REFUSE TO FORM PACT

Failure Due to Belligerent Stand of Hitlerites Over Beuthen Verdicts

OPPOSE VON PAPEN

Understood Hindenburg to Dissolve Parliament at Meeting Next Week

BERLIN, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Efforts to unite the National Socialist party of Adolf Hitler and Heinrich Bruening's Catholic party against the government of Chancellor Franz von Papen, which sentenced five Hitlerites to death, have failed, the Berliner-Boersen Courier said today.

Negotiations were carried on yesterday at Stuttgart, the paper said. Reports that a pact was being arranged between the two parties had been current. Failure of the conference was attributed to the Hitlerites' belligerent stand on the Beuthen verdicts, in which the five Nazis were condemned for political terrorism.

The Fascists and the Catholics sought a common ground to oppose immediate dissolution of the Reichstag when it convenes next week. It has grown increasingly apparent that President Paul von Hindenburg will dissolve parliament.

Well-informed politicians ventured the opinion today that von Hindenburg would not attempt to violate the constitution because such a precedent might encourage Hitler and his followers to inaugurate new and more violent demands and to resort to illegal methods.

LEADER OF BANDITS CAUGHT BY POLICE

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 25.—(UP)—The alleged leader of a gang which held up a Bank of America branch yesterday, during which two bandits were shot to death and a bank teller critically wounded, was captured by police in a rooming house today.

The man, who, police said, confessed his participation in the robbery and also admitted the murder of a bystander in a jewelry store robbery a month ago, gave his name as Robert York, 28.

Captured with York was George Turcott, 32, who was shot through the abdomen by Detective B. G. Anderson when the man reached for a gun.

GARBO REFUSES TO WORK

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 25.—Warner Brothers-First National studios announced today that Greta Garbo, had refused the leading feminine role in "The Match Kings," a picture to be based on the sensational career of the late Ivar Kreuger.

The blonde star cabled her refusal from Stockholm. The decision was no surprise to the studio, as her name had been linked romantically with that of Kreuger before collapse of his vast financial empire and subsequent suicide.

HIGHEST COURT IS PANNED IN LATE VOLUME

Dignitaries in Washington Subjected to Light by Anonymous Author

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(UP)—The United States supreme court is taken for a ride in the new anonymous volume entitled "More Merry-Go-Round," published today by Liveright.

In one of the most daring chapters ever written about the supreme court the authors, under the heading "Nine Old Men," say Chief Justice Hughes once was snubbed by Chief Justice Taft in the court. They declare Justice McReynolds not only refuses to lunch with his colleagues but has had serious friction with fellow justices and that he went through some terms writing almost no opinions at all. They call Justice Butler the "papal delegate to the court" and declare that he, McReynolds, and Van Devanter sent word to President Hoover objecting to appointment of Justice Cardozo on racial grounds.

The authors relate much gossip which is common property among Washington correspondents and dig up a good deal more. The bulk of the long volume is concerned with intimate gossip.

The anonymous authors assert that:

Former Secretary of Treasury Mellon paid the expenses of one army of unemployed from Washington back to Pittsburgh.

Secretary of War Hurley secured a political lease on the policies of the Washington Post by buying the country estate of owner E. B. McLean.

The social bureau of the White House and state department is spending more than $30,000 for salaries in comparison with about $3000 spent by previous administrations.

Senator Capper once left a party after drawing from a surprise package a sheer pair of ladies black lace panties addressed to a darling young wife in the diplomatic corps.

Secretary of Treasury Mills finds himself no match against Speaker Garner at poker.

Dissection inside the R.F.C. is reported.

Secretary of Commerce LaMont tried to take out life insurance in order to borrow money prior to his resignation.

Calvin Coolidge, when vice president, was snubbed by General Pershing and got even later by refusing to reappoint Pershing as chief of staff.

Secretary of Labor Doak ran more people out of the country last year than entered.

When Herbert Hoover resigned as secretary of commerce to run for president, he tried to get Walter Brown appointed to the place but President Coolidge said, "If you want him in your cabinet you can put him there when you are elected." Mr. Hoover did.

AMELIA SPANS NATION IN NON STOP FLIGHT

Lands Plane in Newark 19 Hours After Hopping Off From L. A.

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Amelia Earhart Putnam, first woman to fly solo across the Atlantic today became the first woman to make a solo non-stop transcontinental flight.

She landed at Newark airport at 11:30 a. m. slightly more than 19 hours after she had left Los Angeles. The men's record for a similar flight is 11 hours and 18 minutes, made by Major James Doolittle.

A crowd of only 150 persons was on hand to greet the tall slender flyer as her fleet Lockheed monoplane glided to an easy landing. But they made up in enthusiasm what they lacked in numbers, rushing past police guards onto the field and surrounding the plane.

Miss Earhart took off from Municipal airport in Los Angeles at 4:26:54 p. m. E. S. T., yesterday. The plane was loaded with 465 gallons of gasoline and Miss Earhart carried numerous maps, some camera films and sandwiches and water. She was using the same plane she used on her flight to Ireland.

She said she followed the regular air route across and did not "cut corners." Headwinds hampered her progress a good part of the way.

DEATH MACHINE IS GIVEN TO RUSSIA

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Lester P. Barlow of Stamford, Conn., has given the secrets of his "death machine" to soviet Russia because, as a "practical, militaristic pacifist," he believes it to be the only nation which will make use of it to force universal world disarmament, he said.

The death machine, an invention which Barlow says will scatter millions of bombs from a distance of 1000 miles, was first offered to the United States. The Stamford inventor said, however, that when his own country refused to back it, he took it to Russia.

LEE AND BOCHKTON HEAD OVER OCEAN

HARBOR GRACE, Nfld., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Two young American bachelors swept out of Harbor Grace early today in their red monoplane, the "Green Mountain Boy," on a nonstop ocean flight intended to end in Oslo, Norway.

Clyde Allen Lee and John Bochkton left the runway and headed into the misty east at 5:01.

TO PHOTOGRAPH SUN ECLIPSE IN ARMY PLANE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Capt. Albert W. Stevens, army air corps photographer, plans to take pictures of next Wednesday's eclipse of the sun from an airplane five miles above the earth.

From this height, Stevens hopes to be able to photograph the great shadow which will be cast on the earth by the moon. The shadow will be 100 miles wide and will move a mile a second.

Stevens is a member of the National Geographic society's eclipse expedition which will have its base at Fryeburg, Maine.

R. F. C. TO LOAN TO STATES FOR RELIEF PLANS

Financial Assistance Will Be Available in Near Future, Reported

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(UP)—The Reconstruction Finance corporation in the near future will extend numerous loans both to states and to municipalities for unemployment relief and also for so-called self-liquidating construction projects, it was learned today at corporation offices.

Included among the states which may be expected to receive federal financial assistance for relief work are Pennsylvania and several of the western states.

Pennsylvania recently was refused an advance by the board on the grounds the state had not done enough itself in the way of relief. However, this policy, it was learned, will probably be reversed within the next week or 10 days, and some loans made. It was not believed that Pennsylvania would secure the full amount of $45,000,000 asked by Governor Pinchot.

A total of $1,500,000,000 is available for this construction work. The board will endeavor to grant loans as rapidly as practicable.

Applications have been received for federal funds to finance construction of new bridges across San Francisco bay; slum eradication work in St. Louis and other applications of the same general description.

Officials of the board renewed their criticism today of the publicity for bank, railroad and insurance company loans. These loans are now being made public by the clerk of the house acting under a disputed congressional authorization.

A member of the board explained that while the board felt that 99 per cent of these loans might be made public without injury to the corporations concerned, the other one per cent might be definitely harmful.

CONTRACT IS LET TO RAZE OLD EDIFICE

Mrs. Emma L. French Plans to Spend $75,000 for New Structure

WORKMEN will start razing the French building at the northeast corner of Fourth and Main streets early next week preparatory to erection of a modern building which will cost approximately $75,000, it was announced today by Mrs. Emma L. French, owner of the property.

Following two attempts to form syndicates to raise money for erecting a new building on the central business property, Mrs. French came to the decision to furnish the capital herself and start work immediately, she told a representative of The Register.

Contract for razing the building was let to the late William Robinson, architect who designed the new Masonic building and who was associated with Frank Landown in designing plans for the Charles Bowers Museum, has practically completed all plans for the new business building.

The building will be two stories high, but will be augmented by a tower which will be erected on the corner of the structure facing the street intersection. A full basement will be constructed under the building.

Mrs. French purchased an additional 20 feet of business property north of her holdings on Main street to make provision for a building which will be 100 by 100 feet.

The building will be constructed with steel frames and concrete, with a modernistic treatment used in the arched stone exterior. The tower on the building will house offices and will be 60 feet above the street level, making the building higher than any surrounding buildings. The tower will be 25 feet square. Ceilings of the storerooms on the ground floor will be 20 feet high so occupants may build mezzanine floors if desired.

A feature of the new building will be a patio and court which will be faced by the office buildings on the second floor. The structure will house 23 offices.

Mrs. French is a pioneer resident of Santa Ana, coming here in 1879 and having lived in the same house on Ninth street for the last 40 years.

LEADER OF REVOLT IN MADRID TO DIE

MADRID, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Gen. Jose Sanjurjo, leader of the recent monarchist revolt, was sentenced to death today.

Gen. Garcia De La Herranz, another of the revolt leaders, was sentenced to life imprisonment. Lieut. Col. Esteban Infante received a 12 year prison term and Capt. Justo Sanjurjo, son of the general, was acquitted.

Sentence was pronounced by seven judges of the supreme court's military section, who presided over a brief trial.

They waited until President Alcalá Zamora had met with the cabinet, to announce their decision. The death penalty for the plump baldheaded general, once an intimate of Primo Rivera, had been expected, even by his own attorney.

JAPAN LANDS MORE MEN IN SHANGHAI

SHANGHAI, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Arrival of reinforcements at the Japanese naval landing headquarters in Shanghai today created fears throughout the city of another clash between Japanese and Chinese forces.

A statement from Japanese headquarters explained the steps taken as a move to "afford ample protection to Japanese residents." The action was attributed to the "recent extension of terrorism by Chinese ultra patriots."

The sentences followed convictions of conspiracy in the collapse of the bank chain with $13,000,000 lost to depositors.

The court had indicated Bain's sentence would be only 18 months but Prosecutor Edwin J. Baber quoted the law and insisted on the longer term.

ROUTED MINERS REORGANIZING FOR NEW FIGHT

Deputy Sheriffs Open Fire on Strikers and Many Autos Are Wrecked

DUQUOIN, Ill., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Approximately one-third of the routed army of striking miners reformed in a field near here today for a possible second march into Franklin county.

Messengers were sent to Pincneyville and Culterville where other portions of the 18,500 strong host had retreated.

Across the Franklin county line, a few miles east, 800 deputies stood guard under Sheriff Browning.

From Culterville came the reply that some 8000 hungry, weary miners there had decided to return to their homes. They had no sleep and no breakfast except coffee made over camp fires.

Riding in 1650 automobiles and trucks, the strikers last night proceeded southward through Bond and Clinton counties, then into this, Perry county, where they were stopped twice by deputy sheriffs, warned not to proceed and told that they could not camp for the night at Dowell, in Jackson county, as they had planned.

The procession, stretching for many miles along the highway then was headed straight across the eastern border toward Franklin county, the men determining to enter the forbidden territory at once instead of waiting.

The caravan passed through Duquoin about 6 p. m. At about 8 o'clock the first automobiles reached the county line. Suddenly, as they drove over a hill, the leaders came face to face with Sheriff Robinson and his army of deputies, estimated at from 300 to 800 men.

While the procession waited, Robinson conferred with the strike leaders, told they could not enter or interfere in any way with their brother union miners who were working in Franklin county under the new scale.

There was not room at that point for the automobiles to be turned around, so Robinson said the men could drive on to Mulkaytown, just across the border line, turn around and re-cross the muddy river homeward. There are many versions of what happened after that. In the darkness something happened that started the battle. Some witnesses say the deputies, most of them citizens unused to firearms, shot first. Others say the strikers started the trouble.

That there was considerable shooting was attested by the automobiles which the men drove back.

SENATOR LONG MIXES WITH SMART BABIES

MAMOU, La., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Senator Huey P. Long, who taught Arkansas Democratic campaigners how to quirt crying babies with a drink of water, was "out-smarted" by Louisiana babies who nearly created a lollipop shortage.

The kingfish, campaigning for John Overton, Sen. Edwin Broussard's opponent, gave all his men a sound thrashing, but they saw one get a lollipop, they all cried. The racket caused by the Democratic babies was terrific.

When a baby cried, one man dashed to it with a lollipop, and the crying ceased. But there were a lot of smart babies. When they saw one get a lollipop, they all cried. The racket caused by the Democratic babies was terrific.

JAPAN CLAIMS CHINA POLICY SELF DEFENSE

Foreign Minister Defies League to Interfere in Manchuria

TOKIO, Aug. 25.—(UP)—Japan's foreign minister, Yasuoka Uchida, spoke out boldly today in defense of her Manchurian occupation, virtually defying the league of nations or any other "machinery of peace" to interfere with her policies, including recognition of Manchukuo.

Uchida's address was co-incident with the announcement that the league's special commission had completed its report on the Sino-Japanese crisis, and that the report will not be favorable to Japan. He arose in the imperial diet and announced the nation's intention of recognizing what was Manchuria as a member of the Japanese society of nations.

Uchida's pronouncement including criticism of American policies outlined by Secretary of State Stimson, and conflicting with the league commission's findings, inevitably will result in important world-wide repercussions.

Stimson's assertion that Japanese "aggression" constituted a violation of the Pact of Paris aroused indignation in official quarters here.

"There are those who argue," the foreign minister said, "as though the action of Japan were a violation of the Kellogg-Briand anti-war pact. But such contention has no foundation in fact. Japan has been forced to adopt necessary measures for the prevention of wanton attacks upon the important rights and interests vital to her national existence.

"The anti-war pact does not put restraint upon exercise of right of self defense in such a case. * * * and obviously the exercise of the right of self defense may extend beyond the territory of the power which exercises that right. Japan's action is essentially identical with the action that other powers have taken elsewhere in similar circumstances."

WILL ROGERS SAYS

MOJAVE, Aug. 25.—(To the Editor of The Register): The old desert; the more you see of it the more you can understand folks really loving it. It's a great health-giver to many a disabled soul. It's just like a lot of folks; it never had a chance. The minute you give it any water it grows more stuff than all your fertile land. These old boys sitting away out here don't look like they have to worry whether Mr. Hoover's letter to the dries will keep them in line or Mr. Roosevelt's retaining Walker will help hold Tammany in tow. Their living has got to come from a well and a pump and not from any political patronage, so these fellows escape all that political "hokey" that hits us every four years. Yes, sir, when we retire from active life it's the Senate or the desert, and by golly, I believe I will go to the desert.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS

TRIAL OF MAYOR WALKER DRAGGING

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Technicalities of New York City's transportation problems were discussed at today's hearing of justice charges against Mayor James J. Walker.

John H. Delaney, chairman of the board of transportation, was recalled as a witness by John J. Curtin, chief of Walker's defense. He discussed various technical phases of the city's transportation system.

Walker arrived 20 minutes after the hearing opened. He smiled at Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, and then listened intently.

Delaney, after testifying to the various transportation problems read from a voluminous report.

FEAR ATTACK AFTER NIGHT OF VIOLENCE

Farmers in Nebraska and Adjoining State Battle With Peace Heads

TEAR GAS IS USED

Trucks Bearing Livestock to Market Fail to Get Through Strike Lines

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., Aug. 25.—(UP)—Fearing a mass attack upon the Council Bluffs jail, where 80 striking farmers were held, Sheriff Percy Lainsom today threw a machine gun barrage around the structure.

Lainsom called in most of his 100 special deputies, and was ready to offer strong resistance to any attempt to deliver the prisoners.

Three men with submachine guns were posted at points of vantage. Deputies watched all avenues of approach. Council Bluffs furnished its entire police arsenal to arm the guards.

Arrests—44 in all—came during a night of violence in which the strikers, their numbers increasing hourly, emerged victorious in the first pitched battle of Sheriff Lainsom's campaign to "run every striker out of Pottawattomie county."

In this engagement four officers using tear gas in an attempt to disperse a picket camp on a highway leading into Council Bluffs were injured by a rain of clubs and stones, and by broken glass from the windows of their car.

The strikers fell upon them with their cars, carrying cans of tear gas on the running board, was forced by a stalled machine to a stop in the midst of the crowd. More than three thousand persons, including many women and children, watched as the strikers, disregarding the choking gas, rushed the car, hurling sticks and stones against the windows.

The officers were showered by broken glass and thrown missiles. Their own eyes streaming from the effects of the gas pouring in through the shattered windows, the men finally succeeded in starting their car and disappeared into the night amid the jeers of strikers.

Clearly outnumbered by the pickets, Sheriff Lainsom's forces gave up further attacks and retired within the city limits. There, during early morning hours, many arrests of striking farmers were made.

Fourteen men had been arrested late yesterday. Twelve of these were sent to jail for 30 days when they were unable to pay $100 fines.

After midnight a car was halted on a downtown street. Four men were arrested. They said they were "just looking the situation over." Officers said an array of clubs was found in the car.

Then officers found a truck carrying 31 men parked on a dirt

ARRANGE FOR SOLOISTS AND PARK PICNIC ITALIAN MUSIC ON LABOR DAY TO BE HEARD

Plans for the first annual Labor Day picnic of the combined labor groups of the county and the Orange County Democratic club have received official endorsement of organized labor in this county, according to James L. Davis, president of the Democratic organization.

According to Davis, the Democratic club this year will be host to labor at the picnic to be held on Labor Day in Irvine park. The plan was taken to labor groups for approval and was heartily endorsed, according to Davis, because no plans had been made for observance of the day here this year. Endorsement of the proposal has been given by J. F. Lincoln, chairman of the Orange County Trades Council; R. C. Ewing, Anaheim labor leader, and local heads of various trade unions.

Davis today appointed Ogden Markel general chairman in charge of the picnic. Markel will announce committee to work with him as soon as possible.

Under the present plan, the Democratic organization will provide a band for a concert during the day, hot coffee, sugar and cream, to be served during the old fashioned basket lunch to be served at noon. Labor organizations are being requested to provide one speaker for the program after lunch. A second speaker will be provided by the Democratic organization.

Deny Petitions For Court Writs

Their petitions for writs of habeas corpus denied by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel, John Rose and Henry Ell, Huntington Beach men, will go to trial September 20 in superior court.

Attorney D. G. Wettlin, representing the accused men, sought a writ of habeas corpus on the grounds that insufficient evidence to hold his clients had been presented at their preliminary hearing.

Ell and Rose were arrested after an explosion and fire that destroyed an apartment house in the beach city. The apartment house was owned by E. R. Taber and occupied by Jess Sibley.

The picnic will start at 10 a. m. and will last all day. Sports, including a ballgame and races, will be features of the day. Families that attend will bring basket lunches while the district will furnish coffee, sugar and cream.

MAKES THE NEIGHBORS SHUDDER

For five years Mrs. Daniel A. Warren, of Glen Ridge, N. J., vainly pleaded for a change in the town zoning law which would permit her to lease her home for a store or apartment house. When her appeal again was denied recently, she resorted to a drastic protest. Clothes lines were strung about the unkempt porch and yard, and draped with long woolen underwear, as shown above. The house itself has been painted a glaring yellow with bright blue trim. Shuddering neighbors and a worried borough council are wondering what can be done about it.

FALL JUBILEE PLANS MADE BY S.A. MERCHANTS

The mammoth sales event which has been planned by the Merchants Division of the chamber of commerce will be called the Santa Ana Fall Business Jubilee of 1932. It was decided by the board of directors at a meeting held in the chamber offices yesterday afternoon. The event is scheduled to take place in the near future.

Committees to take charge of the event have been appointed by Chairman H. E. Willard and plans for the event will be furthered at a meeting to be held by the board of directors next Tuesday, at which time full details will be discussed. Many surprises for local shoppers are promised by the group during the jubilee, which is expected to be the outstanding event in Santa Ana for this year. Thousands of shoppers will be guests of Santa Ana merchants during the five day event, according to officials.

SCHOOL TAX PLAN TO BE DISCUSSED

Frank Henderson, superintendent of schools, is scheduled to speak to the Santa Ana Realty board at its meeting in Ketter's cafe tomorrow noon, on the proposed school tax amendment. Realtors and school men and others are supporting a plan to raise school funds by a state income or sales tax rather than by local taxes on real estate, and this is the measure that will be the subject of discussion at the meeting tomorrow.

The public is invited to attend this meeting, according to W. F. Croddy, secretary of the board.

MAN JAILED FOR INSULTING GIRLS

For several months the Santa Ana police department has been bothered by men insulting little school girls on the streets. Today one of those men is "put away" for 18 months at least.

He is Jose Robles, charged with lewd conduct, who was sentenced to serve six months in the county jail on three separate charges.

The man was arrested by Santa Ana police officers several days ago after he is said to have insulted two school girls. The girls were smart and instead of being afraid to say anything about the matter immediately rushed to the police station, procured an officer and rushed back to the place where they were insulted and pointed the man out.

State May Use State Parks for Unemployed Men

SAN CLEMENTE, Aug. 25.—California will undoubtedly again operate labor camps similar to those conducted last year and there is a possibility of some of the camps being established in state beach parks, possibly at San Clemente or Doheny park. This information was received today by Virgil Westbrook of the San Clemente Chamber of Commerce from A. R. Black, chairman of the California Labor Camp Committee. Black has received from Governor Rolph the resolution adopted by the San Clemente Chamber of Commerce asking that labor camps be established at state beach parks, the men to get board and room and money for construction done at the camps.

Black in his letter stated that at state labor camps only board and room and $5 was paid to the men, the money being given them when they left camp. Governor Rolph has called a meeting of department heads at Sacramento on September 2 at which time ways and means of financing the labor camps next winter will be discussed. At that time the suggestion of the San Clemente Chamber of Commerce to establish camps at state beach parks will be taken up, the letter said.

The discussions will include the factors that influence prices, such as shipments, employment, foreign exchange, volume of competing fruits and other factors. It is expected that a number of growers from Los Angeles and other neighboring counties will be present to hear Dr. Wellman talk.

The Friday meetings are the first of a series of meetings to be sponsored by the Agricultural Extension Service and Farm Bureau covering the economic and marketing problems now confronting the citrus industry.

PAIR IN COURT FOR SMUGGLING JAIL LETTERS

Two Orange county jail prisoners, members of the county chain gang, were in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today charged with slipping letters out of the jail and mailing them for other prisoners.

One of the men, Raymond Horton, pleaded guilty and the other, Warren Seebler, pleaded not guilty. Horton is to go back to court tomorrow to hear the pronouncement of judgment. Both men are serving sentences on charges of non-support of minor children and were placed on the chain gang so that they could earn $25 per month for the care of the children.

In the complaint they were charged with violation of section No. 171 of the penal code, which makes it unlawful to send letters out of the jail uncensored.

The men were arrested when they were said to have been caught in the act of mailing two letters at the county park. They claimed it was the first time they had smuggled out letters, according to Theo. Lacy Jr., jailer.

Six others were found near the Council Bluffs jail and were taken to cells.

SHOPS GASSED: OFFICIALS TO CONFER IN L. A.

With one man in the Orange county jail as a "racketeer" suspect, representatives of the district attorney's office are in Los Angeles today conferring with officials of that city and Long Beach on a campaign to break a ring that is reported preying on barber shops in Southern California.

Following instructions to police officers in all Orange county communities, issued by District Attorney Sam L. Collins, to pick up suspects in the barber shop "racket," Ed Norris was arrested yesterday in Fullerton. He is being held for investigation by the district attorney with a possible charge of attempted murder in the office.

Officers Act

Norris was arrested by Fullerton police yesterday after he had solicited the proprietors of two barber shops that had been "gassed" this week. One shop, that of E. L. Winn was "gassed" twice, on Monday night and again Tuesday night.

The "gassing" of the two shops in Fullerton brings the total in Orange county up to five shops that have been targets for retaliatory acts following their refusal to join an "association" that for a fee of $5 per chair would guarantee protection from price cutting, according to officials.

One shop in Buena Park, two in Anaheim and the two in Fullerton were gassed Monday night by someone who injected a foul smelling gas through the keyholes in the shops after closing hours. Shops thus victimized were: C. V. Wahl's shop in Buena Park; Valencia Barbershop and Babcock's Barbershop, Anaheim; E. L. Winn's shop and the shop of O. O. Adams in Fullerton. Winn's shop was gassed again on Tuesday night and yesterday Norris is said to have visited both the Fullerton barbers and solicited their membership in a protective "association."

Check Murder Charge

Sheriff Logan Jackson today wired Norris' description to authorities in Pecos, Tex., who recently circulated all sheriffs seeking a man known as Ed Norris for attempted murder. The circulars sent out by Pecos authorities, however, bore no description of the wanted man.

Barbers in Los Angeles also are experiencing a reign of terror created by agents of a so-called "barbers' association." Last night another shop, whose proprietor had refused to join the group, was stench bombed.

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

WETS

John G. Raskob privately got Jovett Shouse that job with the Association Against Prohibition. He wanted to keep Shouse in the public eye. He expects great things from the Wet Kansan later on. That shows who is running the wet association. Up to now it had been assumed in the best circles that the Duponts were the secret powers in it. Raskob's part was not thought to be so influential that he could remove the Republican Henry Curran and install Shouse.

The Shouse appointment also means that Gov. Roosevelt will get little encouragement out of that outfit.

In 1928 all officials of the wet organization personally endorsed Smith and contributed money to his cause. From excellent authority come assurances this time that it will content itself with activity in the Congressional field.

STRATEGY

Shouse gave the Democratic high command palpitation of the heart before he took his new job.

He moved into a prominent suite in the National Press building a week before his appointment was announced. Rumors about what he was going to do flew thick and fast. Some hinted he was going to open campaign headquarters for an independent ticket.

There was an official Democratic sigh of relief when it was learned he was "only" going to be wet generalissimo. Privately the sighs of relief have not yet been heard.

BOSS

Gov. Roosevelt is running his own campaign.

He overthrew the private advice of his manager, Chairman Farley, in deciding on that big western swing. Unquestionably he knows more about campaigning than Farley does. He has had more experience. He went through a rough schooling as second man on the doomed presidential ticket of 1920. He was Al Smith's floor leader in Madison Square Garden. He probably knows more of the older Democratic leaders out through the country by their front names than any other living man.

Farley privately opposed the swing around the circle because he thought it was a waste of time and energy. He counted practically all of the western states save California and Iowa in his confidential column.

Running Mate Garner helped to make up Roosevelt's mind. He told fabulous tales about votes to be won west of the Mississippi.

TRAVEL

The Democratic plan has aroused some uneasiness in Republican ranks. It may cause expansion of Mr. Hoover's concentrated campaign plans. The high and mighty are now talking about the possibility of Mr. Hoover going to California to vote in November. The idea would be to provide him an opportunity to stop off for a couple of western speeches en route. Chances are one spot that needs attention.

The Government relief situation makes it doubtful now whether he can get away.

WETS

The latest confidential polls of the wets holdout no hope of a two-thirds wet majority in both houses of the next Congress.

That means liquor is a long way off.

Any constitutional amendment must have two-thirds of both Houses before it can be submitted to the state legislatures. The inside word is that they might get the Senate. To do it they would have to rely on dry southern Democrats to stand with the party platform. They are virtually certain they cannot win the House.

They claim to be assured that a simply majority of both Houses will be wet. That would open the way for amendment of the Volstead act to affect beer. Prohibition appropriations also could be cut off. But any constitutional amendment that gets through will have to be supported by a substantial number of dries.

The chances are you will hear considerably less about prohibition next December if business is bapier and the Republicans win.

OTTAWA

Two submerged facts kept the Ottawa conference from getting very far.

Britain has been working ardently since 1929 to build up trade with Russia. She has risked English money in Russian investments. It was therefore impossible for her to place an embargo against Russian goods. Those goods strongly compete with Canada.

The other item was foodstuffs. Britain would starve if she cut off continental food importations. That market was closed to the dominions by the laws of self preservation.

NOTES

Democrats have kicked away many national political chances in the past by over-bidding their hand. . . . There is some wonder here whether Roosevelt's western swing and Garner's R. F. C. publicity are steps in that direction. Private Democratic reports indicate they hope to win the Senate no matter what happens to Roosevelt and Garner. . . . They have their eyes on possible gains in Washington and Indiana particularly. . . . The only Democratic Senate seat they are not sure of is that of McGill in Kansas. . . . They think Wagner will win hands down in New York even though Roosevelt loses the state. . . . The real reason why Ambassador Mellon is remaining here three weeks longer is that he is making arrangements for the proposed economic conference. . . . He will be chairman of the preliminary commission which will work out the agenda for the conference. . . .

NEW YORK By James McMullin

BUNDLE PLAN
The Pirnie Simons bundle plan outfit is flooding the mail with follow-ups and circulars. The circulars would make Joseph's coat of many colors blush for shame. The argument that you better get in now before the market goes up some more is being run ragged.

New York is interested in reports that Alabama and Wisconsin have shut down on bundle plan activities. One of these states doped it out that the purchaser would have to get a 300 per cent appreciation in his stocks before he could break even on a sale. No action has been taken to discourage "bundling" here, but the situation is said to be under close observation.

REPEAL

Local repealists are pleased with the appointment of Jovett Shouse. The report that his organization is not interested in the Presidential election is interpreted as bad news for Roosevelt. Swapping of Presidential for Congressional votes on a large scale may prove very practical politics this year.

SMITH

Those who should know say that Garner's visit to Al Smith was even more of a frost than newspaper reports indicate. The latest dope is that he may speak in Massachusetts in support of his friend Governor Ely. If he does betting here is 4 to 1 that Roosevelt's name will not be mentioned.

Whispers that six million Smith followers will do no Presidential voting in November are on the increase. Copyright, 1932, McClure Newspaper Syn.

JUDGE HOLDS PAIR GUILTY IN STOCK CASE

Harry Roberts and Harry Walker were found guilty of grand theft yesterday by Superior Judge G. K. Scovel, before whom the men were tried in superior court after waiving a jury. The charge upon which the pair were convicted grew out of the sale of mining stock, which was never delivered, to Charles Harbison, of Orange.

Harbison gave the men a promissory note for $1000 in payment for stock in the Kirkpatrick Mine company of which State Treasurer C. G. Johnson is president and principal stockholder. The stock was never delivered but Harbison received interim certificates for stock in the Kirkpatrick Gold Mines Ltd. instead.

Both defendants, through their attorney J. W. Kearby, filed applications for the return of the stock on September 12.

The defense presented its case yesterday and offered but one witness, Roberts, who was on the stand for more than five hours. Under examination of his attorney, Roberts attempted to refute testimony of J. A. Cronin, former associate of Walker and himself in stock selling schemes.

Walker believed that they were selling stock in the Kirkpatrick Mines company, a legitimate organization. Cronin recently pleaded guilty to a similar charge in connection with a stock selling deal and is serving a jail sentence as part of his probation.

Roberts underwent a grueling cross examination by Assistant District Attorney S. B. Kaufman which continued for more than two hours. Cronin was recalled to the stand by Kaufman as the final witness in rebuttal and declared that Roberts and Walker knew the stock deal was not legitimate and had knowledge of the origin of the interim certificates printed to allay fears of suspicious stock purchasers and also knew the origin of a telegram which purported to have been sent by a Nevada attorney telling of progress at the mines and plans for declaring a dividend.

Cronin testified that he prepared the telegram and telephoned it to his wife in Oakland who sent it, by telegram, to him at Long Beach. Roberts had testified that he believed the telegram was authentic.

In declaring the men guilty of grand theft, Judge Scovel said that the men, in his opinion, knew that the stock deal was a fake inasmuch as they used names other than their own in the deal and were receiving 80 per cent of the sale price. Roberts had admitted using Cronin's name in connection with the stock sale to Harbison and Walker used the name H. A. Harris in endorsing and selling the note given by Harbison as payment for the stock.

A charge of burglary against Charles Chatlain, truck driver, who was accused of entering an apartment house here on August 13 and running up a long distance telephone bill of $45, was reduced to petty theft in the city police court yesterday. He pleaded guilty and was fined $25, part of which he paid. The condition of the sentence was that he also make good the telephone bill by paying $10 of it on August 23, the balance in 10 days. Chatlain said today that the arrest was a case of mistaken identity, but that rather than spend time in jail waiting the guilty plea was entered.

M'ADOO TAKES LIQUOR STAND OF HIS PARTY

Speaking over KREG at noon yesterday, William Gibbs McAdoo, candidate for the United States senate, said in part:

"There have been assertions and intimations—sometimes it is said open and sometimes it is only whispered—that the Democratic party is actually in favor of the return of the open saloon.

"Nothing could be more false than the idea that we even consider any proposal to permit a restoration of that debauched institution, the saloon.

"Our position on the eighteenth amendment was clearly set forth at Chicago, and there will be no deviation from that position."

McAdoo attacked the Smoot Hawley tariff act as having lost for California one of her best customers—Canada, which has enacted retaliatory tariffs. He promised to work for a downward revision of the tariff, with the idea of reducing it on manufactured articles, and helping the farmer to show a profit instead of a loss, on his production.

He promised also to work for an adequate protective tax on imported oil, so that the California worker and producer might have a fair chance in the markets with his product.

ONLY REGULAR CREWS USED TO BATTLE FIRES POSITION ON MATTERS TOLD BY CANDIDATE

In accordance with a ruling made by the state board of foresters, no unorganized or volunteer workers will be used in Orange county or any other county in the state, to fight fires, it was disclosed today by Joe Sherman of Orange, state forest ranger in charge of this district.

Under the ruling, no volunteer fire fighters will be used to extinguish fires. The work will be done by organized crews who are trained in fire fighting work. The crews come from packing houses, ranches and can be called from the road department and from the Sherman Indian Institute if necessary.

The men that fought the brush fire which swept close to 2500 acres of the Moulton and Yzabel ranches Tuesday afternoon, were taken from the Moulton ranch, Irvine ranch, Laguna fire department, and county truck crews at Capistrano, Yorba Linda and Orange. A truck from the agricultural department also aided. The fire was in Aliso canyon and caused damage amounting to at least $1000, according to Sherman. Some 80 men were used fighting the fire, Sherman said. The burnt area and surrounding territory was patrolled by a force of 10 men yesterday to see that no further outbreak occurred.

"SEEDS THAT GROW"

Holding that a public office is a public trust, and that a public officer is only a public servant and declaring that he stands for reduction of governmental expenses, upholding the eighteenth amendment and aid for the unemployed, Chester M. Kilne, candidate for congress from this district, delivered an address over KREG last night.

"I believe the big problem before us is to bring back prosperity," the speaker said. "The first thing to do is to reduce governmental expenses. As chairman of the ways and means committee of the assembly by refusing approval of 'pork barrel' bills we saved the taxpayers $25,000,000. At the last session of legislature I voted against increase of salaries for judges."

The speaker told of his efforts to pass a bill which would have exposed lobbyists and which resulted in a power company trying to defeat him in the last election.

He pointed to his record as a "dry" and declared that the dry issue is a moral as well as economic issue. He pointed out that he had received the endorsement of all strategy boards in the district. He said he believed the eighteenth amendment was justified from an economic standpoint. "It is not good economics to spend $10 for waste and then get one dollar back, expecting prosperity," he said.

"I am for a protective tariff," he declared. To help the orange industry, the speaker said, he saw to it that the Riverside experimental station received increasing appropriations for maintenance from the state.

Bank deposits should be protected, the speaker declared, and promised to do everything possible to bring this condition about.

ODD EQUIPMENT USED TO OBTAIN LINDBERGH CLUES

Charles Promenchenkel, 79 year old pioneer of Huntington Beach, knows where the kidnapers of the Lindbergh baby are hiding.

At least that is what he claims in letters he has written to the famous air ace, one of which was returned here yesterday by New Jersey state police to Sheriff Logan Jackson for investigation.

Text of the letter, which was written to Col. Lindbergh on August 11, follows: "This is to advise you again that the kidnapers are still in the city of Detroit, and should you desire to get detailed information as to their whereabouts, kindly use the above address to get in touch with me."

"I am the same party who advised you, through a friend of mine, of the kidnapers' whereabouts in my letters dated March 19 and 20."

Investigation by the sheriff revealed that Promenchenkel gets his "information" through a number of weird instruments, batteries, crystals and numerous other pieces of equipment dot the house, according to officers who were there yesterday.

The man himself has been a resident of Orange county for the past 28 years, coming here in 1904 and is a native of New Jersey.

He told officers he wanted to go back to Detroit with them where he would point out the kidnapers, a woman and two men.

GIVES DETAILS OF PLANS TO REDUCE COSTS

Declaring himself to be an absolutely independent candidate and other than the business of Orange county and the efficient and economical management of the same Charles D. Van Wyk, candidate for supervisor from the first district, spoke last night over radio KREG.

Elimination of the major portion of the approximately 300 different tax budgeting bodies in the county, through the borough system of government was advocated by Van Wyk as a part of his program for efficient and economic government.

Speaking of economy in government he said: "Much has been said with reference to cutting county government expenditures and too little offered as a means of intelligently carrying out said plans."

"It is well for us to apply some simple arithmetic to our problems and endeavor with more intelligent management to administer necessary county funds with less waste. Specifically I refer to those three items, education, highways and charities which comprise 75 per cent of our county expense."

Borough System
Referring to the borough system of government Van Wyk said, "Our tax budgeting bodies which number some 300, in this county, can be reduced to one group, a saving of a total that will run well into seven figures annually. In carrying out this plan we have ample precedent in the borough system, which is now in effect in several of our larger communities in the state and which, can, due

Piles Go Quick

No Salves—No Cutting

Thousands who have itching, bleeding or protruding piles have not yet learned that quick and lasting relief can only be accomplished with an internal medicine. Neither salves nor suppositories remove the cause. Bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel causes piles. The hemorrhoidal veins are flabby, the blood weak—the parts almost dead. To get rid of Piles an internal medicine must be used to stimulate the circulation, drive out the thick impure blood, heal and restore the affected parts.

Dr. J. S. Leonhardt, after years of study, found a real internal Pile remedy. He called his discovery HEM-ROID, and prescribed it for 1000 patients with success in over 900 cases, and then decided every pile sufferer, no matter how stubborn their case, might try his prescription with a money back guarantee.

HEM-ROID tablets have such a wonderful record of success in this city that McCoy Drug Co. and all good druggists invite you to try HEM-ROID and guarantee money refunded if it does not end your Pile misery—Adv.

FACTS REVEAL BOOZE CONTROL PLAN FAILURE

Millionaires want a result of the liquor traffic to unload the tax burden on the shoulders of the working man; drunkenness and consumption of liquor has increased under government control in Canada; an alarming increase has taken place in liquor consumption in countries where liquor is legalized, and a return of liquor to the United States would result in untold harm to the nation.

These assertions were made by Harcourt W. Peck, retired Methodist minister of Fullerton, in an address over KREG during the regular W.C.T.U. hour.

The Rev. Mr. Peck for formerly pastor of Methodist churches in Santa Ana, Fresno, Redlands and Phoenix, Arizona, was superintending the Fresno and Los Angeles districts. In opening his speech, he paid tribute to women of the W.C.T.U. and to J. F. Burke, publisher of The Register, whom he typified as "a broad, thoroughly trained and able defender of the eighteenth amendment and the best interests of our nation and especially of Orange county."

The speaker proved by actual figures that the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, the one outstanding wet organization in America, was supplied with funds by millionaires, who wished to ease or eliminate their corporation taxes and unload the burden on the shoulders of the working man, who would consume the beer that would be taxed by the government if it were returned.

Facts From Canada
"Never before in the annals of our country has there been hatched such a diabolical plot against the welfare of the nation and the good of its people," he said.

The speaker quoted actual statements from liquor boards and newspapers in Canada to prove that: the increase of liquor consumption since government control is terrible; sale of beer increased 1,000,000 gallons over last year in Ontario, Quebec and Alberta; that seven provinces having "government control" with a population of 10,000,000 spent $160,000,000 a year for liquor; that since the opening of beer parlors hard liquor sales increased 50 per cent; drunkenness among women increased 53 per cent; arrests for drunkenness increased 125 per cent in the first eight months and if all the drunks were arrested there would be no room in the jails for them; that the greatest problem in Canada is moonshine in the country districts; that bootlegging increased 111 per cent in the first year, and that as much liquor is sold by bootleggers as is sold in government stores.

"Do you want that kind of 'control' in California?" the speaker queried, "that is what would happen if the Wright act is repealed."

The speaker quoted actual figures again to prove that prohibition has decreased liquor drinking in the United States. He quoted the Chicago Tribune in 1914, when the paper stated that 14,000 women and girls frequented the back rooms on Madison, Clark and Cottage Grove avenues in Chicago. "Compare 1912 conditions with those of 1914 when 14,000 women were staggering through legalized saloons every day of the year in just one section of one city," the speaker said. "If you want tens of thousands of women and girls of American homes to go staggering through legalized grog shops, then vote for those who would bring back legalized beer, wine and hard liquor. Call the place where it is sold what you will, the inevitable result is the same."

Attacks Platforms
The speaker hit both of the political parties' platforms on the prohibition question, and pointed out that if prohibition were repealed the United States would become the protectors and partners in the liquor business.

The British drink bill for 1929 was $1,400,000,000, enough to pay for the British deficit of 1931, the cost of the Panama canal and the cost of the Colorado river project, the speaker said, and 79.1-2 per cent of that bill was for beer. He pointed out that 90 per cent of the volume of and 55 per cent of the alcoholic content of liquors sold in the United States prior to prohibition were in beer.

The speaker pointed to the tremendous increase of liquor consumption in France in recent years, and the fact that insanity has nearly doubled in that country. He quoted a German authority to prove that the same condition exists in Germany.

The speaker went on to say that authorities have proven that but a small percentage of the grain raised in the United States was ever used in making liquors, and that but 59,914 men were employed in breweries before prohibition, proving that the wet claim that the unemployment situation would be helped was unfounded in fact.

How To Vote
"Do you want to be half-starved, live in shacks, and yourself and children clothed in rags, while the man who sell intoxicating drink to your man fills his till with the money that should be yours?" he asked. "Then vote for the man who wants to bring back drink—under government protection."

"Do you want your sons to become drunken rags, lazy, shiftless, good-for-nothings, a disgrace to you and a curse to their own home? Then vote for those who want to bring back drink."

"Do you want that beautiful daughter of yours to become a dissolute person or a drunkard, an inhabitant of the red light section? That is exactly what intoxicating liquor did for hundreds of thousands of young women before prohibition became part of our constitution."

"Vote for prohibition of drink. Let nothing stop you. Guard your homes."

HOOKS and SLIDES by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

The game is inconsistent. The Tigers are farther away from first place in the American League—in point of games—than are the Reds in the National League. Yet Bucky Harris is considered a very hot-shot manager, while there is talk in Redland of removing Dan Howley as chief.

THE SIMMONS SITUATION

They are bombing Al Simmons in Philadelphia whenever he comes to bat. It seems to be the idea of Philadelphia fans that since Fox has become so successful Simmons is sulking in his tent. But Umpire Will McGowan tells me that never did a man try harder to regain his greatness than Al Simmons has tried this year.

IT'S A WARNING

Simmons situation seems to be a warning to the young ball player who might be inclined to let his head swell after the performance of some remarkable deeds. The downfall of Simmons this year is about the swiftest plunge a star of his brilliance ever has taken, and the most unexpected.

JOE MUST KNOW BETTER

Along the baseball grapevine comes the word that a certain American League manager whose team is leading the league by a substantial margin seems to be inclined to let the success of his athletes turn his head. That surely wouldn't be Mase Joe McCarthy, would it? At least, not the McCarthy I use to know.

YANKEES ARE A CINCH

The Yankees were in front with a lead of 10-1-2 games on Aug. 17. Suppose the team played 500 ball from that day to the end of the season. Cleveland or Philadelphia then would have to win 30 out of 40 games to gain a tie. It appears to be impossible.

THE FIGHTING CUBS

Should the Cubs go on to win the National League pennant, it ought to be an even money bet for the club to win the world series. The Cubs got hot after Horneby was displaced by Grimm, and there is no telling where a warm team will go.

PIRATES SOFT TOUCH

Not by any stretch of the imagination can a world series victory for the Pirates be conceived, supposing the Pittsburgh club were to be pitted against either the Yankees or the Athletics. Every decrepit left-hander in the National league has beaten the Pirates, whose batting punch is against right-handers. Gomez, Pennock and Wells would set the Buck on their ears. Grove and Walberg wouldn't even have to warm up to beat the Gibson boys.

GET OUT THE BOOKS, BOYS

If the Yankees win the American League pennant, Babe Ruth will enter the world series with a chance to establish baseball records that may never again be equaled. Ten world series! Most hits, most times at bat, most bases on balls, etc. The boys in the press box would break out into a rash.

A BRAND NEW ONE

If the Cubs win, and meet the Yankees, that will be a record, too. There never has been that kind of a series. Only once has the world series been played between Chicago and New York teams—in 1917, when the White Sox beat the Giants, four games to two.

THE GOMEZ SUPERSTITIONS

Senor Gomez, who this year attained the honor of being the first pitcher in the majors to win 20 games, has little habits that rank him the Lefty O'Doul in the class of superstitious ball players. Gomez always drops a ball thrown to him by an umpire. On his way to and from bench and slab he never steps on the foul line.

Strilich, Maloney In Mat Rematch Tonight

'BEEG' STRONG FELLERS' MEET IN DELHI RING

The "Terrible Swede," Steve Strilich, tonight will have an opportunity to dispel current opinion that he was exceedingly fortunate to have won over George Maloney, Irish light-heavyweight wrestling king, at the Orange County Athletic club last week, by pinning Maloney in decisive fashion when the two grapplers clash in their three-fall rematch at the Delhi road arena.

Strilich was declared the winner last Thursday when a severe nasal injury forced Maloney to retire. The two men were battling along on even terms when the bout terminated. Each had scored a fall and to ringers the match appeared to be a toss-up.

Lou Daro, famed Los Angeles wrestling impresario and his brother, Jack, have been invited to attend the match as guests of Promoter Elmer Willson. With the Daros sitting ringside, Strilich and Maloney are expected to toss everything they have into the battle of catching the big-time promoter's fancy.

Maloney's Reputation Grows
Although Strilich is the better known locally, Maloney is fast gaining a reputation as a real threat to California title claimants and should he score over the Swede will become one of the most sought after wrestlers in this section.

Few grapplers boast a win over Strilich. The colorful Swede has been campaigning as a professional for the past three years and during this time has pinned such men as Mustapha Pasha, Joe Bannick, Maloney, Johnny Clancy and others.

Strilich conceded almost 20 pounds in weight to "Jumping Joe" Savoldi and gave the latter one of his hardest bouts. A flying tackle that missed fire, sending Strilich into the ring where he was kayoed, gave Savoldi the match.

The winner of the three-fall, two hour main event will be in line for a future main event here and in all probability a match with Dr. P. A. Mullikan, powerful Los Angeles light-heavyweight, whom many claim is the logical world's light-heavyweight king.

Dr. Mullikan faces Miller vs. Dr. Mullikan appears in the semi-finals, meeting "Wildcat" Miller, rough and tumble Texan. Miller and Dr. Mullikan went to a draw several months ago before patrons of the Olympic arena in Los Angeles. Since then several promoters have attempted to land the return match.

The semi-final is expected to result in the wildest match of the night, as both men are give and take grapplers.

"Italian Pete" Dando, Chicago hammerlock expert makes his bow in the three-fall special against "Brick" Mayne. The match brings together a clever youth and a rougher, with Dando due to supply the rough stuff.

Bert Colima, former Mexican middleweight boxer, makes his second start as a wrestler in the open fall opener. Colima made his wrestling debut here last week by scoring a triumph over Marshall Aguirre. This time he gets stiffer opposition in Tommy Haynes.

The scheduled program marks the start of bi-weekly shows, the next program being set for two weeks hence.

Reduced prices—50 cents and $1—go into effect starting tonight.

Hi Gridmen To Practice September 1

Old Man Football peered around the corner at a long suffering Santa Ana today. The boys will be at it just one week from today.

"Tex" Oliver, coach of Santa Ana High's undefeated Southern California champions of last year, announced that the Saints would begin practice at Poly field next Thursday, September 1. The date is set by conference rule.

Coach Oliver, however, has asked returning members of last year's squad to report at Tuesday at which time they will be issued full equipment. Other candidates are under instructions to show up next Wednesday.

TO BAN BOUTS, FENCING FROM 1936 OLYMPICS

BY DAVIS J. WALSH
(I.N.S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—(INS)—If the so-called British-speaking countries have their way, there will be no boxing at the next Olympic Games in 1936 at Berlin. There also will be no fencing; likewise no water polo.

In fact, according to a discussed and tacitly agreed upon program, Anglo-American interests will attempt to relieve the situation of all "personal contact" sports, it being their decision, after years of study, that there never is anything strictly impersonal about a punch on the nose.

Theoretically, of course, it is a very splendid and inspiring sensation and the procedure, if I understand the Olympic oath, is to promptly turn the other nose. But misunderstandings are bound to crop up, because it often turns out not to be a theoretical punch, and there are further complications due to the fact that the Olympic isn't the first oath one is liable to think of in these circumstances. So, generally speaking, rancor is at the flood and enmity runs wild, with the result that the governor usually sits up half the night, wondering whether to call out the militia or flee across the frontier while there still is time.

Compared with former Olympic Games, the recent meeting at Los Angeles was commendably free of turmoil, yet in spite of excellent management and an effort to be kindly, even though secretly enraged, there were moments when international amity were a slightly anxious and haggard look.

I recall, for instance, that one of the foreign water polo teams climbed doggedly out of the tank one afternoon and "ranged" the referee. Later, no doubt, they regretted the incident exceedingly and wished sincerely that it had not happened. So did the referee. Anyhow, this brings to mind another incident of the games in which a contestant in the fencing, having sustained an adverse ruling, hurried his foil in a tantrum, painfully injuring a spectator. The contestant, of course, was deeply mortified but the spectator seemed to be unreasonable, because he persisted in being injured and somehow, in spite of all that was said, his pain did not abate.

So, what with one thing and another, it is probable that the International Olympic committee will be requested to proceed without these events when again it takes up the splendid work of furthering the ideals of sportsmanship and preserving the art of good will.

COLTON WINS FROM RIVERSIDE, 3 TO 2

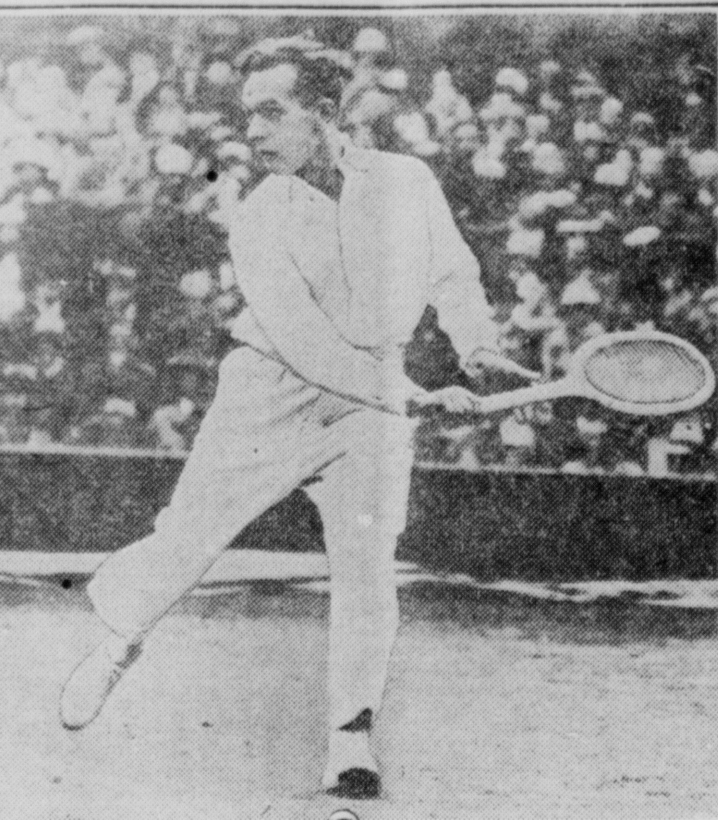

Tomorrow night's game between Rialto and Riverside at Colton will either decide (1) the second half championship of the American Night League or (2) throw these two teams and Colton in another three-way deadlock which they have been endeavoring to decide this week.

Colton, beaten by Rialto Monday, came back last night to win Riverside, 3-2, and remain in the complicated race. If Rialto beats Riverside, Rialto will be the second half champion and will engage in a playoff with Riverside, first half champion. If Riverside is successful, however, the teams will be tied again and another playoff will be necessary to determine the second half.

The score:
Riverside ... 000 002 000—2 4 2
Colton ... 200 010 003—3 8 1
Batteries: Riverside—Briggs and Zikratch; Colton—Spottswood, Crevalin and Hawk.

WILL COCHET GET REVENGE?

Henri Cochet ... is he just another doddering old man? The great French tennis player has invaded the United States for the first time in many years. He wants another crack at young Ellsworth Vines, who cost Cochet his first Davis Cup match this year.

By WILLIAM BRAUCHER
(NEA Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—M. Henri Cochet has come over and the war isn't over yet.

The war referred to is the international tennis tussle, to be staged at Forest Hills, N. Y., September 3 to 10, and if M. Henri were not in it he would not be here, you can depend upon it, even though Ellsworth Vines was supposed to have put him in his place in the late and lamented Davis Cup brawl.

"Cochet wasn't himself when he lost to Vines over there," say some of the members of the Davis Cup team.

"Cochet has gone back and never will be able to beat Vines at Forest Hills," say some others. Be that as it may, Lafayette, it is a cinch that M. Henri has come over to play tennis and not just to visit his grandmother.

Besides these two, who are looked on as the stars of the assemblage, there will be Fred Perry

LONG BEACH COUNTRY CLUB COURSE SOLD TO CHAIN GROUP; PLAN IMPROVEMENTS

SPRINGDALE, Aug. 25.—The 100-acre Long Beach Country club golf course has changed hands, and the new owner being the Ingleside Public Golf course, which operates five golf courses in California, among them the Willowick club in Santa Ana and the "California" links in San Francisco.

The deal is understood to have been made for a very moderate sum.

The Long Beach fairways are in splendid condition and the course is one worthy the large crowds who have visited the course. There were 175 persons at the club Sunday while Saturday's crowd was given at 145.

Within two weeks construction of a large clubhouse of Monterey architecture is to start, the estimated cost being given at $25,000, including fine furnishings. Luxurious club quarters will include besides the club rooms, a large balcony, the office, apartments for

Mr. Hutton who is of Hollywood, is spending considerable time at the local club which will no longer be known as the Long Beach Country club. The new name has not yet been announced.

The club was organized by Long Beach men, with a few local people included as members some years ago. Two years ago the clubhouse burned and a small house was built at once, the finances of the club at that time not being sufficient to replace the former style of the club. Last week a fire started in the present small club but was extinguished before a great deal of damage was done. Repairs on this building have been completed.

CALL OFF CITY TITLE SERIES AFTER DISPUTE

The much discussed series for the Santa Ana City league baseball championship was abruptly called off by President Kenneth Morrison today after hours of disagreement between the contesting teams, Al's Auto Service and MacMillan Gasoline.

Morrison announced that the title had been conceded to MacMillan Gasoline, and that the club would accept a challenge from Garden Grove, champion team of the Orange County Night league, for a series which will replace the now discarded affair with Al's Service.

A recent injury to the arm of "Bono" Koral, star pitcher for Al's Service, was the crux of the difficulty.

Al Adrain, manager of the first half champions, was given permission to employ a substitute moundman. There was a general misunderstanding as to whether he was to acquire a new gunner for one game or for the duration of the series. Al Bushman, the substitute moundman, blanketed the MacMillans with one hit Tuesday night but the MacMillans protested further use of the Anaheim ace, and President Morrison and his fellow commissioners, S. B. Kaufmann and Tom Neal, upheld their protest.

Without Koral, and unable to procure another hurler, Adrain said no reason to continue the series and decided today to withdraw, leaving the way clear for the MacMillan-Garden Grove games which were being cooked up this afternoon.

Thus, there will be no baseball at the Bowl tonight.

His striking was brutal," according to Britisher Perry. "He simply washed away Cochet with waves of severe service."

At Forest Hills the question of Cochet will be answered more fully. Is he just a doddering old man, or was he thinking about something else when he lost that battle to Vines?

Right now, one guess is as good as another.

Women Urged To Fight Wet Interests With Votes

CONCLAVE HELD BY METHODIST AID AT BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 25.—The Methodist Women's Federation of the San Diego district convened in the Methodist church of this city yesterday morning with Mrs. Harriet Lamont, of San Diego, district president, presiding. About 200 women members of the federation were in attendance, representing Orange, Riverside, Imperial and San Diego counties. The Rev. Malan of the Methodist church of El Centro led in the opening prayer. He is filling the pulpit of the Methodist church here while the Rev. John Engle, the pastor, is on his vacation.

The discussion of various church topics which featured the morning session was led by Mrs. N. C. Schultz, of San Diego. The 18th amendment was endorsed and the duty of citizens was declared by speakers to support the amendment and urge its enforcement.

Many speakers contending that conditions of today as regards the liquor question are much better than they were before the adoption of the 18th amendment. Luncheon was served at Memorial hall at noon by the Dorcas society and the Methodist Ladies Aid of this city, hostess organization, with Mrs. Oliver B. Hiltz, chairman of the hostess committee.

At the afternoon session Roy K. Smith gave a vocal solo, accompanied by Mrs. George Chalmers at the piano. The feature of the afternoon program was an address by Mrs. Charles Vandewater, of Long Beach, widely known temperance worker and church woman. Her subject was "The Challenge of Christian Citizenship."

She said in part: "The wets are attempting to overthrow the 18th amendment and to set the temperance movement and prohibition back and nullify the work of many weary years spent by loyal and earnest temperance workers. 'Christian women who stay at home and do not go to the polls and vote are as bad as those who go to the polls and vote wets.'"

She said that Christian womanhood must rally to the support of prohibition and the 18th amendment or the wets would be put in control of the national policies on the liquor question and the nation would turn from temperance into intemperance, from a comparative sobriety into open public drinking of liquors.

Mrs. Vandewater said the challenge was made to Christian citizenship to keep the 18th amendment in force and she urged that good women everywhere rally to its support at the coming elections. Her address concluded the all day conference of the San Diego district except that a brief business session was held in which the next meeting of the district was fixed for some date in October to be announced later by the executive committee and the place chosen for the conference was El Centro.

Bay Praised By Director Of Universal

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 25.—Newport bay was praised as a moving picture locale by Henry MacRae, director of "The Lost Special," a 24-reel serial on which Universal company of about 50 finished several days' work here last evening.

MacRae not only appreciated the natural advantages of the bay and ocean so close together, but also the co-operation of civic officials and bodies.

Ernie Nevers, former Stanford All-American fullback and now an assistant to Coach Pop Warner at his alma mater, and Rob Russell, former All-American Northwestern star, were two of the actors in this film. Others include Frank Albertson, Carl Lincoln, Tom London and Frank Glyndon. Celia Parker, former Fox star, who played in several roles with George O'Brien, takes the leading girl part.

"The Lost Special" is being adapted from a detective story of the same name by Conan Doyle. Doyle's story had a special train on which two important politicians were passengers, run off the main line between London and Brighton by a spur track into a deep mine. In the film story, the continuity of which was written by Ella O'Neill, who was here with the company, a carload of gold is on "The Lost Special," and the gold is believed to be hidden on St. Helen's island. This necessitates a boat chase and numerous other water scenes, taken here.

FULLERTON, Aug. 24.—Ground was broken yesterday for the new American Legion hall, to be constructed in the southeastern part of Hillcrest park, in the northeast corner of the intersection of Valley View and Harvard avenues.

Work started following ratification of the post at the regular meeting Tuesday night of all the work of the building committee, Harold McCabe, chairman.

Other business at the busy session included election of officers for 1932-33 and appointment of Verne Maker as general chairman of the Armistice day committee.

Officers are Ray Starbuck, commander; Roy Black, first vice commander; George Askey, second vice commander; J. F. Ramsey, chaplain; George Willis, sergeant-at-arms; and Harley Brewer, historian. The executive committee is composed of Gordon Handfield, R. C. Green, Emmett Corcoran, Robert Miller and George Askey. A. J. Gottlieb and Gordon Handfield are delegates to the county council. Installation is to be September 13.

Preceding the election of officers members of the post with members of the auxiliary had a pot luck dinner. Mrs. Askey, Mrs. H. C. Askey, Mrs. Gottlieb, Mrs. Ramsey and Mrs. Black were in charge.

At the auxiliary meeting that followed, Mrs. Handfield, Mrs.

BEACH C. OF C. OFFERS PRIZES TO SWIMMERS

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 25.—More than $100 in prizes will be given for a swimming race here Labor day, from the Balboa ocean pier around the jetty at the harbor entrance and finishing in the bay, a course of about three miles. The race will be staged by the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce and will probably be an annual affair. It was decided last night by the chamber directors, meeting at the city hall.

Several prominent distance swimmers residing here have already indicated their intention to enter such a race, it was stated by J. P. Greeley, one of the directors. Details of the affair were left to a committee to be appointed by President W. S. Smith Jr., who was absent last night, the chair being taken by Irvin G. Gordon, second vice president.

The chamber directors also named a committee, consisting of E. I. Moore, Harry Williamson and Ralph P. Maskey, to confer with Mrs. Ida P. Naylor, Newport Beach postmaster, to suitably mark the opening soon of the new postoffice building in Newport Beach. Equipment for the building is expected to be installed within a few days.

Fall and winter tourists and residents will be particularly appealed to in advertising the Newport Harbor chamber is planning for the next few months. Weather records over a period of eight years show that the claim of an all-year climate in this part of California is really borne out by facts and figures and the other advantages of the community are to be emphasized.

The matter of following up the project of submitting a Newport bay district site for the new digible base for the navy said to be under consideration by the navy was left to the chamber's aviation committee, headed by Harry Williamson, secretary G. C. McLeod read some correspondence indicating the numerous other cities will be offered in Southern California if a base is to be equipped.

CANDIDATES IN TALKS AT BEACH CLUB MEETING

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 25.—Three aspirants for congress in the new Orange-Riverside-San Bernardino district, the manager of a candidate for the state assembly and one candidate for superior judge were all heard at yesterday's luncheon meeting of the Newport Harbor Service club at the El Portal cafe.

Judge James H. Allen, who is a candidate to succeed himself on the Orange county superior court bench, said that not one of the many persons convicted of crime to whom he has given probation during his six years on the bench has gone wrong the second time. He told of his striking the library at the Orange county jail which now has 1300 volumes. All contributed by public spirited citizens.

Allen's remarks about crime prevention and cure were supported by Chester Kline, of San Jacinto, one of the candidates for the Republican nomination for congress, who told of his efforts at Sacramento to establish a new prison for youthful first offenders and to provide work for inmates. On behalf of his own candidacy Kline told of his economy and anti-lobbying record in the state senate and assembly during 16 years.

John A. Hadaller of San Bernardino, liberal candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress, told of some planks in his platform, including more bank regulation, aid to agriculture, reduced government cost and better distribution of wealth.

Sumner Crosby of Laguna Beach described himself as the wet candidate and greeted the "leading dry Republican candidate and the leading wet Democratic candidate" to the coast session.

George Scherck spoke for Mayor Tom Murphy of San Clemente, candidate for the state assembly. He told of Murphy's efforts for a fair distribution of the gas tax to the cities, and of his wide experience in legislative matters in this state and Washington.

BIG BUSINESS POLICIES HIT BY W. G. M'ADOO

FULLERTON, Aug. 25.—The policies of the government must be changed and released from the clutches of big business, William Gibbs McAdoo, candidate for nomination for United States senator on the Democratic ticket, told a group of 200 people in a short talk at Fullerton city hall yesterday morning.

McAdoo declared that President Hoover has shown lack of conception of the real problems of the people and affairs have been so mis-managed that many have been forced to suffer, and declared the fault lies not in the party so much as in the leaders of the party.

He declared for making foreign countries pay their debt to the United States; for placing an agricultural tariff and other protection for home industry and for protection of home trade as most definitely needed, and urged support of a strong man on the opposing ticket, for "if I am licked, I want to be licked by a good fellow."

Adopting the battle cry, "Do not change horses in mid stream," is poor policy, McAdoo said, using as example that Abraham Lincoln did not keep poor generals at the head of troops, but when he found them leading to defeat, he changed them "in mid stream."

J. C. Gregory, secretary of the McAdoo for senate club, introduced the speaker.

STATEMENT ON RACE IS MADE BY CANDIDATE

Asserting that there are many matters to be considered in connection with selecting a supervisor, W. C. Jerome, candidate for that post from the first district today made the following statement:

"I believe that the voter should keep in mind the fact that a supervisor is to be elected not merely to vote upon one or two or a half dozen matters, but is to be elected to vote on hundreds of matters.

"The man selected as supervisor will be in office for four years. Many of the issues cannot at this time be foreseen. Many matters will come up that will have a vital bearing on the policies of the county, and other matters will have an important bearing upon the daily welfare—the bread and butter welfare—of large numbers of individuals.

"Because of situations that will develop, because of the vital importance of the job, it seems to me that a man should be chosen whose sincerity has been tested, whose personality as his fingers are a part of his hand, some man whose action under conditions affecting the welfare of the employed and the unemployed, of the taxpayer and the non-taxpayer, of the landlord and the renter can be relied upon. I believe that the man who will be guided by sense of square dealing and outworn conviction.

"I hope I am not so egotistical that I hold myself forth as the ideal candidate. I do know, however, that I have nothing to hide from my public or private life. I know that I have always tried to do the honest and straight-forward thing. If the voters select me as supervisor, I'll give them my word, which I prize most highly, that I'll do my utmost best to be the kind of a supervisor that I know I ought to be."

NEWS GIVEN BY CANDIDATE ON PROBLEMS

Mayor Thos. F. Murphy of San Clemente, Republican candidate for the assembly nomination from the newly formed 74th district today announced his stand on two paramount county problems and on the eighteenth amendment.

He says: "1—Water—Conservation and development of our water resources is a paramount issue in Orange county. This problem can only be solved successfully by using the credit and taxing power of the entire county, and the law should be so safe guarded that all sections of the county, including the coast, can share in a fair and just manner in saved and developed waters.

"2—Gasoline and license tax money—Cities of the state that pay 65 per cent of the state gasoline and license tax should share in a fair and just way in the money returned to the counties from the state. They should not be compelled to build and maintain the greater part of the state and county highways and at the same time build and maintain all of their own streets without aid. Proper distribution of this tax money should be mandatory by the Legislature, thus removing a portion of the pork from the pork barrel handled by boards of supervisors.

"3—Eighteenth amendment—I believe the liquor question to be a state problem rather than a national problem. And for that reason I favor the repeal of the Eighteenth amendment. I stand with President Herbert Hoover as unalterably opposed to the return of the saloon."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a more movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two ounces of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a quick, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two ounces of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Recent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

"RICH ARE ALWAYS WITH US" PLAYING

A new Ruth Chatterton flashed across the screen last night, when her latest picture, "The Rich Are Always With Us," which is her first, First National starring vehicle, had its premiere at Walker's State theater.

Smart and sparkling as the story is, there is a note of tragedy—the tragedy that confronts a woman when she finds her husband has succumbed to a beautiful debutante.

Never has Ruth Chatterton been more fascinating than in her portrayal of Caroline Grannard. Her performance surpasses the best things she has done on stage or screen.

A superbly selected cast gives her flawless support throughout the picture. George Brent, in the role of the impetuous novelist who finally wins the tantalizing Caroline, lives up to all the advance reports we have had of his ability and charm.

Margaret Lyon Britton To Wed Pasadena On Saturday

The Little Church of the Angels in Pasadena has been selected by Mrs. Margaret Lyon Britton of 2025 North Broadway, and her fiancé, Edward Hall of Pasadena, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Sanderson Hall of Omaha, Neb., for their marriage on Saturday, according to plans revealed today.

Details concerning the wedding were made available with the return of Mrs. Britton from Los Angeles, where she has been visiting since the announcement, made at the Pacific Coast club in Long Beach this week and on the occasion of a dinner given by Mrs. Britton in honor of Miss Evelyn Farnsworth, Miss Farnsworth, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Farnsworth of 2219 North Broadway, is to wed Francis Cochran, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cochran of Los Angeles, on September 7 at the Mission Inn, Riverside.

Plans for Mrs. Britton's wedding have been arranged quietly and will be shared by only a small gathering of guests, owing to Mrs. Britton's recent bereavement. The Rev. W. L. H. Benton of La-Crescenta, former pastor of the Church of the Messiah in this city, will officiate at the rites.

Mrs. Britton, daughter of the late Arthur H. Lyon, attended Mills College four years, taking a year of postgraduate work at the University of California at Berkeley after receiving her diploma from the former school. She has been active recently in the formation of a Mills club in Orange county, of which group she was elected president last spring.

Mr. Hall is a graduate of Harvard University, where he was affiliated with the Kappa Sigma fraternity. The couple plan to make their residence in Pasadena.

Guests at the Pacific Coast club dinner, at which appointments of a type in keeping with the two betrothals signified, were observed, included Mrs. Britton, Mr. Hall, Miss Farnsworth, Mr. Cochran, Messrs. and Mesdames Franklin G. West, Gerald Oliver, Howard Timmons, Arthur Smith; the Mesdames Evelyn Whittier, Jessie Johnston, Marian Johns, Lillian Lowther; Messrs. Gregson Baurer, William Fietz, William Porter, Thomas van Stone and Scott Thompson.

Shaded by large walnut trees, the grounds of the Louis F. Bittle home at 1216 West Washington avenue, afforded an attractive setting for the covered dish dinner held there Tuesday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Bittle and a group of friends.

Added to the natural greenery of the grounds were the colorful bouquets arranged to brighten the tables where the delicious menu was served. Bridge was played later, with Mrs. J. P. Evans winning first prize.

Those taking part in the enjoyable affair were Messrs and Mesdames R. Day of Los Angeles; H. L. Cramer, Inglewood; Jack Tate, J. P. Evans, Milo Webb, Don C. Hamilton and children, Don, Clara, Belle and Barbara Lee, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Marion Vanetta of Yorba Linda; Miss Sarah Broderick, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Bittle and children, John, Elizabeth, Billy, Horace and Louis Jr.

Sorority Quartet is Reunited Briefly in Santa Ana

Four young women who enjoyed an association this past year as members of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority at the University of Southern California, today concluded a reunion whose setting shifted from the respective homes of Miss Maynard Spicer and Miss Eleanor Baird, both of this city, to Irvine park.

Following a 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thrasher, on South Flower street, with whom Miss Spicer is spending the summer vacation, yesterday afternoon the two visiting members of the quartet, Miss Louise Williams of Pasadena and Miss Marian Gidney of Compton, were escorted by their hostesses to Irvine park, where the party enjoyed a horseback ride through the woods before returning to the park center for a steak bake. The two guests were entertained individually last night in the homes of Miss Spicer and Miss Baird, and their companions in the Baird home at 1802 Bush street for breakfast this morning. The visitors took their departure today.

Luncheon Arranged by Orange Hostess

Mrs. R. S. Frye was hostess recently at an informal one o'clock luncheon given in her home at 628 South Orange street, Orange. The home was decked with a variety of summer blooms and the afternoon was spent in conversation.

Those present were Mrs. Fred Hobbs, Mrs. Orlo Hobbs, Mrs. Earl Hobbs, Miss Dora Lambert of Costa Mesa, Mrs. Jay Perry, Mrs. Donald Burnett, Mrs. Dennis White and Mrs. Paul Ristow.

S. A. PAIR COMMEMORATES FIFTY YEARS OF MARRIAGE

Three children, eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild will be congregated at the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe this evening when Mr. and Mrs. George A. Edgar, aged 73 and 70, respectively, observe the passing of the 50th milestone in their married life. Today numerous cards and messages, and a stream of callers, bearing congratulations and good wishes, testified to the place which the couple has won in the affections of this community during their lengthy Santa Ana residence.

FESTIVITIES CHARACTERIZE WEDDING DATE OF EDGARS

On August 25, 1882, in the city of Vallejo, in Northern California, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Edgar, as bridegroom and bride, heard their marriage solemnized just six months before they were to move to Santa Ana to establish a residence which was to extend over a period of half a century.

This afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Edgar were holding court in their home at 302 East Chestnut street to countless friends and acquaintances eager to impress upon the Santa Ana pair the esteem in which they are held by their entire acquaintanceship.

At 7 o'clock dinner, with which the golden wedding anniversary will be formally recognized, has been arranged by the children of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar for this evening, and will have its setting in the Doris Kathryn Tea Shoppe on North Main street. Here will gather Mr. and Mrs. Edgar, as guests of honor; their three children, Mrs. J. C. Horton and Nelson V. Edgar of this city, and Mrs. H. E. W. Barnes of Anaheim; J. C. Horton, Mrs. Nelson V. Edgar, H. E. W. Barnes; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Horton and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Horton, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Horton; Miss Barbara Horton and Miss Roberta Horton, all children of the J. C. Hortons; Chester Edgar Horton Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Horton and great-grandson of the George A. Edgar; Nelson V. Edgar Jr., son of the Nelson V. Edgar; and Frank M. Vanderlip of this city, brother of Mrs. George A. Edgar.

Out of town relatives bidden to the celebration are Mrs. Edgar's cousin, Mrs. Paul Shoup, and Mr. Shoup, president of the Southern Pacific railway, both of San Francisco; Charles D. Ballard, candidate for re-election as superior court judge; Mrs. Ballard; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Shively and Mrs. Ella Ballard Hanna, all of Los Angeles; and Edgar and Robert Barnes of Anaheim.

The open house this afternoon with which the events of the day were opened was held in a home which Mr. and Mrs. Edgar have occupied during 35 years of their life. From Fifth street the couple moved to First street, and then to Orange avenue, before selecting the Chestnut street lot.

An even longer record of ownership is claimed by the grocery store which Mr. Edgar opened on East Fourth street soon after his arrival and which he occupied continuously for forty-eight and one-half years, until his recent retirement.

Lodge interests. The owner of an active business concern, Mr. Edgar likewise identified himself with numerous civic organizations and enterprises, his affiliations including the Elks lodge, Masonic and Oddfellows orders, in which latter association he is a Veteran Oddfellow; and the Native Sons of the Golden West.

Mrs. Edgar began her long association with the Sycamore Rebekah order auspiciously, being the first vice grand of that organization, and having been actively identified with its concerns during her entire period of residence here.

Retired from active business, Mr. Edgar has shifted his attention to the care of his large collection of birds, his aviary boasting as many as 200 birds, representing some 30 or 40 species.

A collection of an entirely different type is claimed by his wife, to whose proficiency in art, sets of hand-painted china and numismatic tapestries hang in her home, offer flattering testimony.

Born at Sea. Reminiscences confessed by Mrs. Edgar today revealed an adventurous infancy. Born on the Caribbean Sea on one of the numerous trips which her parents were making at that time between California and India, Mrs. Edgar owes her Christian name, "Oceanic," to the captain of the ship, who bestowed it. Several sea voyages, which Mrs. Edgar shared while still very young, followed, before Mrs. Edgar's parents established residence in Vallejo. Here their daughter made the acquaintance of Mr. Edgar, who

Approaching Wedding Incentive for Shower

Miss Martha Adams and James Musick of this city, whose marriage is to take place in the near future, were honored guests at a pretty shower given Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Jack Blakeney and Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. Harvey were hosts in the latter's home, 409 East Myrtle street. Mrs. Blakeney is a bride of recent date, and will be remembered as Miss Marian Brown. Mrs. Harvey was formerly Miss Georgia Croft.

Bridge was played during the evening, with Gerald Edwards and Miss Dolly Webster scoring first and second high. Gene Edwards was consoled. Miss Adams and Mr. Musick were presented with the array of miscellaneous gifts which their friends had selected for them.

In concluding their hospitality, the hosts served a tempting two-course buffet supper, using a quantity of colorful zinnias and asters in decorating. Appropriately, a miniature travel scene, displaying a winding road, an automobile and other details, centered the table, for the young people plan to follow their marriage with a trip east. Mr. Musick is to play professional football there.

Guests included Miss Adams and Mr. Musick and the Misses Peggy Warburton, Dolly Webster and Dorothy Arnold; Messrs. Gerald Edwards, Gene Edwards, Xerxes Z. Stone, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Blakeney and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey.

Miss Adams, formerly of San Diego, attended Santa Ana high school. Her fiancé, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Musick, 2216 Maple street, was graduated in 1931 from the University of Southern California. He too attended the local high school.

Members and friends of the Wrycende Maegdenu club of the Y. W. C. A. took part in an enjoyable party held Tuesday evening in the Y. W. rooms. Miss Katherine Spicer, club president and Miss Eva Deane Caskey, social chairman, were hostesses.

Four tables of games were in session during the evening. Miss Grace Jackson and Miss Harriet Gruettner were the fortunate winners of first and second prizes. Mrs. Howard Bear was consoled.

Dainty bouquets were used in decorating tables for the refreshments, served at a late hour.

Wedding in Hollywood Is of Interest to Santa Anans

Mr. and Mrs. Julius A. Yale are spending honeymoon days at Carmel, Yosemite, Lake Tahoe and other points of interest, following their wedding of Wednesday evening, August 17, at the Hollywood Knickerbocker hotel. Mr. Yale, who is well known here, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Yale, 826 North Broadway.

On their return to Southern California about September 1, the newlyweds will establish their home in Los Angeles, where Mr. Yale is employed at the court house. Their friends here will be interested in learning that they expect to visit in Santa Ana with Mr. Yale's parents shortly after their return.

The bride was formerly Miss Rosalind Janice Weinberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Weinberg, 841 South Serrano avenue, Los Angeles. For the ceremony she was beautifully gowned in a Patou model of white satin, fashioned princess style with a divided train. Her veil cap was of princess lace, and was adorned with real orange blossoms which caught the tulle veil. She carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Costumes Described

The bride's cousin, Mrs. Aaron Levinson, attended her as matron of honor. She wore burnt orange satin with a close fitting hat of tulle in the same shade. The maid of honor, Miss Muriel Jane Longfelder, and the bridesmaids, Miss Mildred Beckman, Miss Ethel Levine and Miss Jeannette Tetenman, wore silk crepe frocks in pastel tints, designed with puffed sleeves and short jackets trimmed in ostrich plumes. Small tulle hats completed their costumes.

Mr. Weinberg gave his daughter in marriage, and Rabbi Isaacson performed the ceremony. Banked with much greenery, the altar was lighted with slim tapers in candelabra and decorated with baskets of white blossoms.

Mrs. Yale attended Mills college, and is a graduate of the University of California at Los Angeles, where she was a member of Alpha Epsilon Phi sorority. Mr. Yale studied at both the University of Southern California and the University of California at Los Angeles. He is a member of the Zeta Beta Tau fraternity.

Santa Ana Guests

About 200 guests were present for the ceremony and reception, held at the hotel. Among those from Santa Ana were Mr. Yale's parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Yale; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hurwitz and daughter, Miss Lillian Hurwitz, Mr. and Mrs. M. Peale and daughter, Miss Mildred Peale; Mrs. Shift and sons, George and Joseph, and Mrs. Sam Stein and daughter and son, Miss Helen Stein and Arthur Stein, formerly of this city, and now of Los Angeles.

Jack Fisher Chapter And Auxiliary Have Picnic

With more than 200 members and friends attending, Jack Fisher chapter and auxiliary, Disabled American Veterans, held an enjoyable picnic dinner last night at Hewes' park. Coffee and watermelon for the affair were furnished by the auxiliary. Individual members provided a variety of appetizing dishes for the menu.

The group unanimously voted the affair a success due, largely, to the efforts of B. L. Chittenden, senior vice-commander of the chapter, and Mrs. Chittenden, commander of the auxiliary, who were in charge of the evening. Opal McCall headed the dinner committee.

Short talks were given by various members during and after the dinner hour. Much of the time following was devoted to playing miniature golf.

YOU and your Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bicknese, 516 West Second street, had as guests Tuesday, Mrs. Mabel Sproll and Mrs. Lillian Manning and son, Gene, of Long Beach. Mrs. Manning and her son will leave tomorrow to make their home in Corning, Calif., where the former has a position teaching school. Miss Dorothy Hastie of Los Angeles, formerly of Santa Ana, is spending part of her vacation at this hotel.

Laguna Beach with her brother, Alfred Hastie. She plans to go to Sequoia National park for a several days visit shortly. Earl Lepper, 2208 Maple street, went to Kettleman Hills Tuesday to take up a new position with the Standard Oil company. Miss Irene Heim of 809 Bush street was a Los Angeles visitor today.

Announcements

The Philathea class of the First Presbyterian church will have a beach party Saturday afternoon on the ocean side of Twenty-fourth street, in Newport Beach. Automobile will leave the church at 2:30 o'clock, and all members and their families are invited to attend. Table service is not furnished.

TAX ECONOMIES DISCUSSED AT CLUB SESSION

ORANGE, Aug. 25.—C. E. Grier, chairman of the board of supervisors of San Bernardino county, spoke on "Tax Equalization," at the meeting of the Lions club yesterday.

"Every six months taxpayers pay $5,000,000,000 in taxes. This money is withdrawn from banks and as a matter of fact is more money than is in circulation in the United States."

"A drastic tax economy program must be put into effect in our local communities. This must be followed by state wide equalization. Our solvent property can no longer bear the burden."

"There will be an initiative measure on the ballot at the coming election providing what in effect will be a luxury—in order to remove the ever increasing school tax burden from the local property taxpayers to the general public. All citizens profit by the schools and many of them are not even taxpayers."

Paul Muench was program chairman, and Burt Wing presided. An invitation was accepted from the Santa Ana Lions club for a barbecue to be held September 1 at Irvine park. The Santa Ana club challenged the Orange club to a game of indoor baseball.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

One of the monkeys jumped up high and caught a trapeze, swinging by. "Let's watch him," shouted Windy. "He's as clever as can be."

"Why, when I'm doing trapeze stunts, compared to him I am a dunce. I wish that I could do the tricks that he does easily."

"Just look! He's going 'way up high and now he's gaily swinging by. I hope he doesn't lose his hold. That would be very sad."

"He knows that we are watching him. Oh, my, did you lads see him skim the ground and never touch it? Let's all clap. 'Twill make him glad."

The Tines then gave their applause and it proved well worthwhile, because the monkey waved his paw at them and then hung by his tail.

This was the cutest stunt he'd done and to him it seemed lots of fun. In not one of the tricks he tried did this pet monkey fail.

Soon Duncy shouted, "That's enough. You've started in to pant and puff. Drop right off of that swing and rest your weary bones a while."

The monkey did as he was told. Then into Duncy's lap he rolled. It was a very funny sight, and made the Tines smile.

Another monkey walked up to the bunch and said, "Come, all of you! I'm going to take you to a place where you can see a fight. 'Don't worry, though, the fight is fair and lots of monkeys will be there. Two of them will be in a ring and they'll be a sight."

Of course the Tines were real glad to trail along. They ne'er had had a chance to see a funny boxing match like this before. One monkey was socked on the chin, but jumped right up to bore right in. The way they punched each other made the happy Tines roar.

(Duncy tries his luck at boxing, in the next story.)

How the sun appears during a total eclipse, with the bright corona sending its glow thousands of miles out into space.

Science Prepares for the Year's Greatest Show the SUN'S ECLIPSE

Astronomers are flocking to New England and eastern Canada to be on hand August 31, when a totally obscured sun provides one of their rarest opportunities for solar study

By WATSON DAVIS

EARLY in the afternoon of Wednesday, Aug. 31, the moon will begin to bite the sun into a crescent as viewed from all parts of the United States.

This will usher in the greatest astronomical show on earth for the year, an eclipse of the sun.

If you are located within a hundred mile wide band stretching through New England and eastern Canada, you will see the sun totally obscured by the moon for a few fleeting seconds. Around the dark disk there will shine a pearly light, the corona that is seen only during total solar eclipse.

Red flames of hydrogen gas, many thousands of miles high, may be seen shooting up from the surface of the sun. Stars and planets will shine out in the sky as though it were twilight. The planets Jupiter and Mercury and the stars Spica, Denebola, Regulus, Castor and Pollux will be seen.

To make the most of the minute and a half of total eclipse that will occur at the middle of the path of totality, dozens of astronomers from all parts of the world will set up telescopes and other instruments within the area where the moon will cast its shadow. Thousands of people will journey to the path to see what has been described as the "most impressive natural spectacle."

THROUGHOUT the nation millions will pause in their daily tasks to see the moon come partially between the earth and the sun.

To the public one of the greatest marvels of an eclipse is the accuracy with which its occurrence can be predicted years and months in advance. The time of a total solar eclipse is often foretold to within a few seconds, and the astronomers who travel miles to observe it erect their temporary observatories with assurance that they are located favorably within the shadow of the moon.

The astronomers welcome a total solar eclipse as an opportunity to study the sun and the effect of the sun upon the earth. Only when the moon cuts off the bright, blinding light of the sun during total eclipse can the outer surroundings of the sun be observed.

Much of what is known about this source of heat and light upon the earth has been learned from observations during the fleeting seconds of total solar eclipse. Since the invention of photography less than an hour of observations has been possible.

Astronomers travel over land and sea and spend months of preparation in order to observe the totally eclipsed sun for a few minutes. Fortunately for Americans, the Aug. 31 eclipse occurs close to their homes and nearly every observatory is sending an expedition to the path of totality.

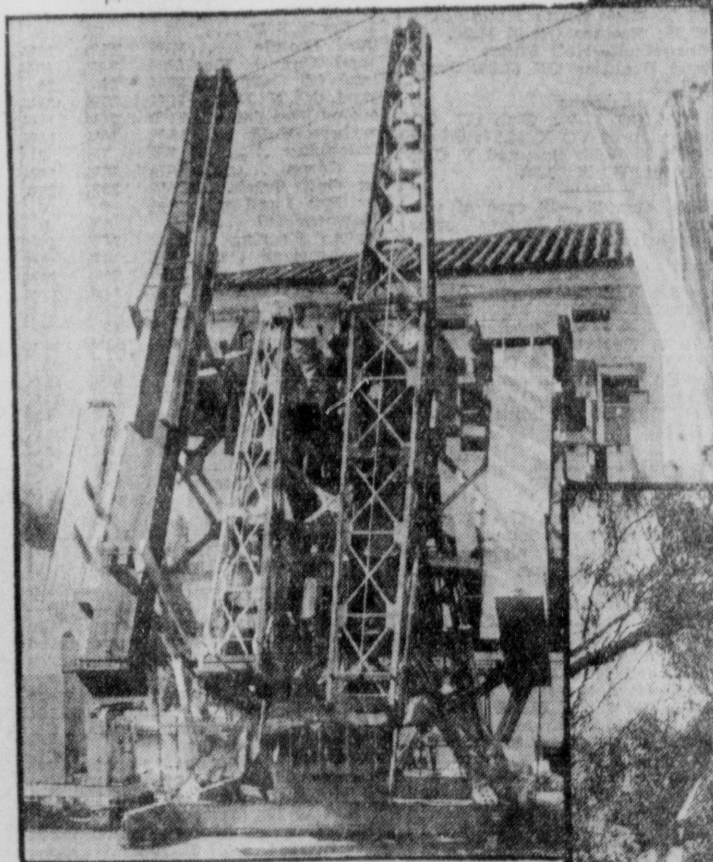

THE halo of light around the eclipsed sun, known as the corona, will receive the largest amount of study. This changes in form with the sunspot period and astronomers are eager to check the form and shape of the corona at the coming eclipse.

Since it is a time of sunspot minimum they expect the corona to have short, plume-like tufts at the poles of the sun while equatorial streamers shoot out to great distances. When sunspots are plentiful, the corona instead appears to extend from the sun's disc equally in all directions.

Long focus cameras will photograph the corona. Until recently it was proper to say that during total eclipse was the only time the corona could be photographed. Two years ago a French astronomer from the top of the Pic du Midi obtained a photographic record of corona light under everyday conditions. But these researches are only in their beginnings, and astronomers will not forego the opportunities of eclipse observations on that account.

The corona is a far-flung appendage of the sun, some of its streamers extending several millions of miles from the sun's surface. Its light is partly ordinary sunlight from the sun itself, caught and reflected by fine particles of its matter, and partly radiation from its gases which themselves emit light.

In addition to direct photographs of the corona, there will be many cameras that record it as seen through the spectroscope. The corona's spectrum, like the rainbow-like spectra of other lights, gives clues as to the materials that compose it. The element helium was discovered on the sun long before it was found on earth.

The shaded area on this map is the path in which the eclipse of the sun will be total. . . . Elsewhere in the United States and Canada it will be visible as a partial eclipse.

Measurements of the light intensity and the heat of the corona will also be made with special instruments.

Although the outer layer of the sun itself, the chromosphere, can be observed when the sun is not in eclipse, it will receive attention because it is especially conspicuous during total eclipse. It will be seen brilliantly scarlet because of the hydrogen gas in it.

At other total solar eclipses the star fields around the sun have been photographed with great care in order to test the apparent displacement of star images near the sun which is predicted by the Einstein theory of relativity. The problem will not be studied extensively in the coming eclipse, not because astronomers are not interested in the problem, but because there are not suitable stars near the sun at time of eclipse upon which measurements can be made.

Any eclipse of the sun is caused by the moon coming between the sun and the earth. If the moon were only a little farther from the earth, there would be no total eclipses of the sun, and if it were closer, the path of total eclipse would extend over more of the surface of the earth.

Both the earth and moon, illuminated by the sun, trail shadows after themselves in space. It so happens that the length of the moon's conical shadow is some 240,000 miles, just about the distance between the earth and the moon. For this reason only the tip of the shadow can sweep across the earth, making the total eclipse path very narrow.

Once every 28 days the moon circles around the earth, but the three heavenly bodies, earth, moon and sun, must be in line for a solar or lunar eclipse to occur.

HOW TO OBSERVE THE ECLIPSE

EVERYONE in the United States, provided the skies are clear, will be able to see the sun's eclipse, Aug. 31, in its partial phases. Only those in the hundred-mile-wide path of the moon's shadow in New England and Canada will be able to see the corona, prominences, and the sun totally obscured. But those elsewhere can make interesting observations.

Before the day of the eclipse prepare eclipse eyeshades for yourself and friends. These can be made by heavily smoking with a candle a piece of glass, or some exposed photographic film can be used. Ordinary dark or colored glasses will not cut out enough light.

Use these eyeshades to view the sun with a nick taken out of it by the moon. Do not look at the sun without adequate protection for your eyes.

Make a photographic record of the eclipse by using either still or movie camera. Set up a still camera on a tripod and record the various phases of the eclipse on the same film by snapping, without changing plates, exposures at 10-minute intervals. Stop down the camera as far as possible. Movies can be taken by making short exposures at frequent regular intervals.

Note that the images of the sun formed by sunlight shining through foliage of trees are crescent shaped and not round, as normally.

A pinhole in one piece of paper can be used to focus an image of the partially eclipsed sun on another piece of paper.

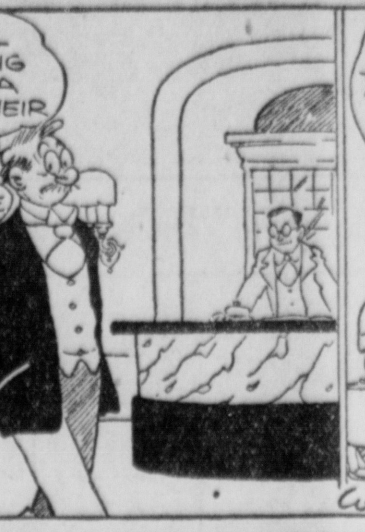

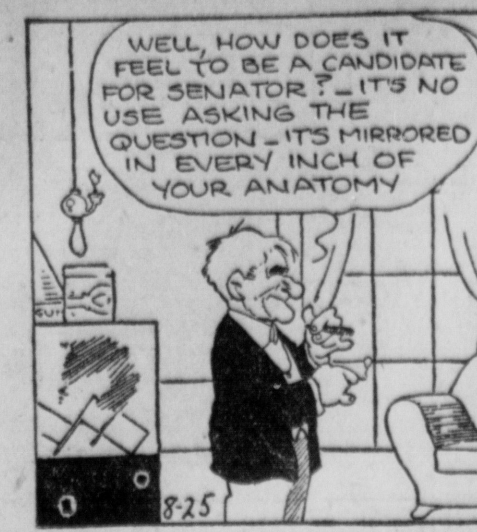

If you see the sun nearly completely eclipsed, watch cattle and birds and see if they act as they do near nightfall. Compare the amount of light remaining with the normal sunlight.

FOREST FIRES SHOW DECREASE EXCEPT IN CALIFORNIA

The fire on the Moulton and Yzabel ranch was deplorable. It was tragic. It serves to direct attention to a report of the Forest Service of the Department of Agriculture sent out August 19. The bureau keeps track of fires in the national forests. Forest fires, it states, this year have been decidedly below normal. "Striking freedom from forest fires marked the opening period of August in the 148 national forests, only the California region reporting unfavorable conditions."

There was also reported a decrease in fires started by the carelessness of smokers and campers. Man-caused fires number 2025 against 2787 the first seven months of 1931. One can read into the report some prop to the self-respect of the Californian in this matter, for this year more than half the man-caused fires were in the eastern and Lake States, whereas last year the man-caused fires in the west outnumbered those of the East and the Lake States two to one. It is consoling to be able to read into this report some progress in the west. Vigilance and cooperation will improve California's record.

The pessimists say that "human nature cannot be changed." The psychologist is right, that the habits of humanity are strong, it is difficult to re-educate, recondition, "make the individual watchful in the matter of flicking his cigarette out of the car window. Human nature, however, can be controlled, or rather can control itself in this respect. This was demonstrated in a striking way on the last two afternoons of the Olympic events. On those particular afternoons two groups of horses were confronted with a number of difficult and hazardous hurdles. Some of the horses were sensitive to noise and applause. The announcer requested the crowd to refrain from applause while the horse contestant was in the ring. Two or three times the announcer was forced to make the announcement, but though the stadium was practically filled with people, there were seen few who failed to observe silence, and before long every member of that huge audience had perfect control of himself. The provocation to clap and hurrah was great. After a horse had passed over two or three hurdles and approached a most difficult one the wish for success which passed from the audience toward the horse could almost be heard, but not quite, and then after he had succeeded there was the even stronger desire to applaud. It was a most difficult thing for some of those individuals in the audience keyed up as they were to the thrill of the thing, to restrain themselves.

The degree of success was a most interesting demonstration for those who appreciated the impetus for applause. It was a demonstration of good sportsmanship on the part of the audience. It demonstrated a possibility of accomplishment which should be passed over to the protection of our national forests and our neighbors' grazing acreage.

RUSSIA'S ACRES

Soviet Russia tried to "will" itself into an industrial nation. It appears to be significant that there is increasing emphasis on the agrarian situation. The government came to need the produce of the farms for trade with countries, with which it could trade, and obtain the necessary tools and products for the industrialization. It reached the point where the government was taking so much from the peasants that they didn't have enough left to eat, and it is reliably reported that they ate some of the seed grain furnished them.

The government attempted, or at least permitted its hired organizers to coerce the peasants into the cooperative farms. Coercion failed, too. Rather than turn their cattle and chickens and hogs over to the cooperative farm the peasants killed them. The government was forced to change its policy and attract the people into the cooperative farms by furnishing examples through the farms already established of the advantages of cooperative farming. The government has been forced once more to change its policy. Even the people on the cooperative farms are no longer compelled to sell to the government any more produce than they want to sell. They may keep for trade and consumption whatever portion they want.

The degree of determination over their affairs allotted to the people in the collectives is apparently not duplicated elsewhere in Soviet Russia. Two reasons for this suggest themselves. On the one hand the farming people may be the most difficult to coerce into conformity with government desires, and on the other hand the government may recognize well enough that in spite of the will for an industrial nation, agriculture is still the backbone of Russian national life.

Harvest figures from Russia are reported to be most satisfactory since the total of grain production is only 4,000,000 acres behind that of the middle of August last year. The deficit is reported to be the result of rains in the North Caucasus which is 6,000,000 acres behind its schedule of last year.

Dispatches from Russia and writers on Russian affairs evidence a greater emphasis on the agrarian progress of the nation. It will be interesting to note whether it is a passing phase, or a capitulation by the government to the broad productive acres of Russia as the real foundation of a powerful nation.

MOTIVES VS. FACTS

Mayor Walker, like every other politician, when caught "red-handed" with the goods, is making his defense by attempting to impugn the motives of the fellows who started the investigation. Walker says, "Hold on, it is a political trick. I will show that the fellows who planned for the appointment of this investigating committee were Republicans, and they did it for political purposes to hurt Tammany Hall. They did it to become bosses."

Governor Roosevelt brushes it all aside. "What have the motives got to do with it?" he said. "We are dealing with the facts. We cannot look into the motives that prompt men, but we are dealing with material issues and truth."

It is an awful jolt to Walker. Was it Johnson who said that "Patriotism is the last refuge of the scoundrel?" "Impugning the motives" of those who would bring out the facts might be substituted for patriotism with perfect propriety and accuracy.

Walker's cry doesn't fool anybody, certainly not the governor of New York. And certainly if the Republican leaders had designed to injure Tammany Hall and embarrass the Democrats, they succeeded in that, too.

JAPAN REMAINS STEADFAST IN SELF-DEFENSE PLEA

Oh, now Japan says she is acting in self-defense. They are using force to protect their interests in China. Foreign Minister Yasuue Uchida declared that Japan has not violated either the Kellogg-Briand anti-war pact, or the nine-power treaty guaranteeing the integrity of China. This was in reply to Secretary of State Stimson's speech recently.

He wants the Manchurian government recognized. Why, of course he does. But when the United States recognizes the puppet government set up by Japan in Manchuria, our country will have to go back on nearly every principle of international relationship which it has maintained for 100 years.

Japan goes on the theory that a false position, steadfastly and eternally maintained, will finally become truth. In the language of the street, we wonder "how they got that way."

Considering Insects

Christian Science Monitor

"A package of insects, please," many a gardener may soon be adding to his usual order for garden supplies. The time has come when insects are to be destroyed on sight, without due consideration being given to their family and occupation. Even the insects are coming into their rights.

The United States Department of Agriculture has found that there are insects and insects. The pests that sometimes infest large areas and destroy valuable crops can be definitely held in check by introducing into the neighborhood certain insect parasites which are now being bred and shipped in quantities.

But—rear and ship these successfully, due allowance must be made for the whims and peculiarities of the tiny animals. At Moorestown, N. J., where a Department experiment station is located, an elaborately arranged refrigerated traveling compartment has been invented that the insects may travel in luxurious comfort and arrive at their orchard destinations prepared to carry on a successful war against battalions of Oriental fruit moths.

Now that certain insects have been raised to the dignity of workers for national prosperity and have received recognition in the way of transportation comfort, perhaps still further consideration may be given the daily transportation of millions of human tollers.

Lament of French Authors

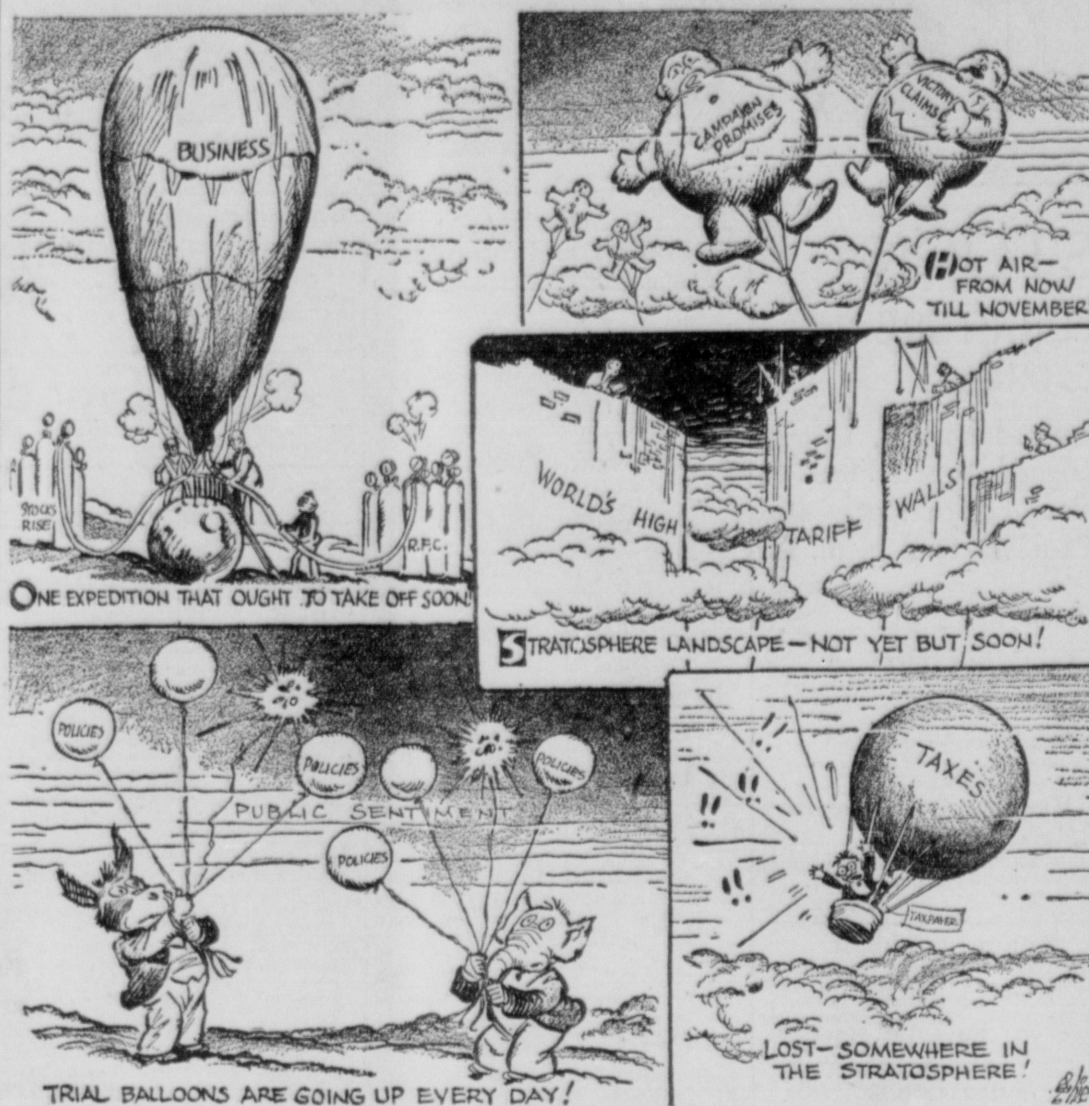

New York Times

French authors complain that 1932 is a hard year for those who earn a livelihood by their pens. People raise the cry that books are too expensive, and in these hard times out that item out of the budget. It is feared that they may lose the habit of buying books. Recently on the boulevards of Paris books by well-known authors, though not their latest works, were offered at very low prices. Passersby glanced at them but nearly all hurried on without buying.

Writers fear the effect of the lending library and of the "bibliobus"—the library that circulates by motor to remote parts of France. Readers, they fear, will fall into the way of borrowing their books and never again buy.

A French journalist suggests that every sort of book-lending institution, public or private, free or paying is really an aid to writers. Those who cannot afford to buy books in these days are thus able to keep up the reading habit. When business is flourishing again they will be eager to buy. In the meantime, he says, why not widen the field of circulating libraries and give the author his profit by a small percentage on the lending fee? "But that would be a startling innovation, and authors lack boldness and abominable innovations." Perhaps in this case it is the publishers and booksellers who would object to the innovation.

More Truth Than Poetry

A CONFESSION

When I am angling for the sport,
And not to sate my appetite,
To no rough methods I resort,
But make a clean and honest fight.
I never use a landing net,
Although the battle lasts all day,
But give the trout a chance to get Away.

Although I never lose the line,
But battle him with nerve and zest,
I let him match his wits with mine,
And often he will win the test.
Sometimes no quarry can I take,
He frees himself with one wild spring.
The while my baffled muscles ache
And sting.

A capture brings me joy and pride,
And when the strain and strife are done,
When a conclusion I have tried,
With such a crafty fish, and won,
I lay the game, but beaten trout
Upon the cabin window sill,
And to my camp mates boast about
My skill.

But when I'm hungry for a meal
And on a trout I want to dine,
I use a rod of heavy steel,
And with a minnow bait my line.
I know of course no sportsman should
In such a style a trout defeat;
However, he is just as good
To eat.

AND HE'D BE A BENEFICIARY

Even Charley Curtis doesn't pull that stuff about giving the country back to the Indians.

PARAGRAPHS

By Robert Quillen

The way of the transgressor seems to be a get-away. Poor candidate! If he promises to reduce expenses, half of the voters think he is threatening their little graft. There are two kinds: "Those who build a nation and those who say: 'Why don't you move to Russia, then, if you don't like our way.'"

The Spartan youth stole a fox that gnawed his vitals, so the Manchurian situation isn't new.

WHAT A WORLD! THESE MORNINGS, TOO WONDERFUL TO WASTE IN SLEEP, AFFORD THE SWEETEST NAPS OF THE YEAR.

Your ego rejects the thought, but it may be possible that the other 129 million Americans aren't the dumb ones.

Maybe travel just seems broadening because the behavior of other Americans makes you feel so flat.

Ignorance must have some value or people wouldn't treasure and preserve it so stubbornly.

AMERICANISM: Choosing representatives because they seem to have sense; accusing them of selling out to Wall Street if they do anything sensible.

A Quaker in the White House? Well, who wouldn't quake? If people don't make war until they forget the last one, American tax payers should be safe for at least three generations. Statesmen who promote tariff wars risk nothing. They won't have to carry a gun when the sequel happens.

THE WAY TO KEEP ON YOUR FEET IS TO KEEP ON YOUR TOES.

The ability to take it doesn't make you popular. Look at the tax gatherer.

If the best business men are those who begin at the bottom, the next decade should be free of second-raters.

And whosoever two or three are gathered together, they have a scheme to get Jack by scaring a Congressman. If you can't get blood out of a turnip, quit trying on condition that Uncle Sam forgive your debts, too.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

FIGHTING THE FILM IN SCHOOL

Yesterday I listed eight advantages of the silent and talking films as a teaching medium that might help us to increase the efficiency and reduce the cost of our schools.

These eight advantages seem wholly convincing to me, but I am aware that there have been many objections raised to the use of the film, save as the most incidental subsidiary to the teaching process, in the schools.

I list today a few of these objections.

(1) It has been said that the film is such a painless process of instruction that it will relax the student's intellectual effort which is obviously the first essential of his educational progress.

I cannot concur in this objection. I have watched the effect of films outside the classroom on my young son's mind, and what I have seen in his case has been confined by many extensive, controlled experiments with great groups of students.

It is true that the film calls for less effort by the student at the outset, but this is more than offset, I am fully convinced, by the greater exercise of his powers of vision, of attention, of observation, of memory, of imagination, and of reflection.

(2) It has been said that, with the film used very extensively in the schools, students will be bored by lessons not taught with films. To this objection, Louis Ange, from whom I quoted yesterday, has two comments to make. They are:

First, to say that teaching without films would, in comparison, be ineffective and uninteresting to students is the strongest possible testimony to the value and importance of the film as a teaching medium. If this is so, he asks, why delay longer introducing the teaching film into all branches of teaching instead of confining it to certain subjects?

Second, when students cease to be interested in lessons taught with films we may be fairly sure it is because these lessons never interested them, in which case the film cannot be made the scapegoat.

(3) It has been said that the darkness of the classroom, where the film is used, is bad for discipline, but experience has shown that shaded lamps on tables and desk may bring a certain amount of light without destroying the visibility of the screen, and, anyway, we cannot begin educational planning by making police tactics the major consideration.

(4) It has been said that the introduction of the film extensively into teaching will ultimately mean the replacement of the teacher by a machine.

This is the old fear that every invention has aroused. Beachcombers protested the erection of the first lighthouse on Cape Cod on the grounds that it would injure the wrecking business. Books have not replaced the teacher. Telescopes have not replaced the astronomer. The typewriter has meant the death of the amanuensis or secretary. It has, in fact, created a vast new profession.

Tomorrow I shall speak in detail of this fear.

THE ONLOOKERS

The onlookers are the bane of a mother's life. If she corrects the children they raise their eyebrows and cluck. If she doesn't, they pull down the corners of their mouths and groan dementally. "Did you see that boy's room this morning, Mary?"

"Yes, I did."

"Well, of course, he's your son but if he was mine I'd teach him a thing or two. I certainly wouldn't pick up after him the way you do."

"I do try to teach him to be tidy, Maria, but he is in such a hurry in the morning that he forgets all about hanging things up and leaving his room tidy."

"Exactly. And you pick up after him. Well, all I can say is that you'll have him as you raise him."

Mother shuts her mouth hard to keep back the sharp words that struggle to get out. The untidy boy is annoying but this constant nagging about him is worse. Still, silence is best.

The older generation are always certain that they raised their children well, in fact far better than their sons and daughters are rearing theirs and they don't hesitate to say so on sensitive occasions.

"H'm. So Myrtle is taking up with that Carter boy. Well, Mary, if you had put your foot down at the start this never would have happened. I never let you go gallivanting about with any boy. No siree. You stayed right where I could see you. There was none of this shennanigan in my family. Tell him to go about his business and settle the matter right now. What's a girl of 16 doing with a boy calling for her? Her not out of college yet. H'm."

In the Long Ago

14 Years Ago Today

From The Register Files

AUGUST 25, 1918

Dr. H. E. W. Barnes, and his brother, Dr. S. M. Barnes of Los Angeles, were spending a week's vacation at Catalina Island.

Dr. Mary E. Wright of Pomona, arrived in Santa Ana to establish her home near the families of her brothers, F. B. Browning and C. R. Browning. She planned to open offices at once to practice her profession.

Judge John R. Hampton, prominent attorney of Phoenix, Ariz., was a guest in this city of Dr. K. A. Loerch.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Livesey received word that their son, J. E. Livesey Jr., had received his commission as second lieutenant at Camp Johnston, Jacksonville, Fla. He had completed the six weeks' training course in the record time of two weeks.

A cablegram from Lieutenant Charles Swanner, notifying relatives of his arrival in France, led to the belief that all members of Company L, 160th Infantry, Seventh California were overseas ready to undergo the final period of training before being sent to the front line trenches.

BRITISH VICTORIES

On Aug. 25, 1918, British troops swept through German opposition north of the Somme and reached a point within a mile of the old Hindenburg line, after taking nine towns and thousands of prisoners.

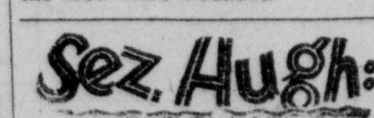

French forces operating in the salient created by the March offensive of the Germans continued their gains, storming important positions during a day of intense fighting.

Germany was rapidly losing the ground gained at the cost of many thousands of lives in the five great offensives of the earlier part of the year.

General Horvath attempted to gain control of all anti-Soviet forces in the Far East by a coup d'etat, but was foiled by the Allies.

The Canadian steamer Eric was sunk by shell fire, presumably from a German submarine, off Miquelon Island. Five members of the crew were wounded.
